LESS TAX ON WHISKY.

Secretary Gage to Make the Recommendation.

WANTS THE BEER TAX INCREASED

The Increase on Spirits Has Caused Illicit Distilling to Grow Beyond Government Control—Less Tax Would Reduce Inducements to Violate the Law.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—It is very probable that the secretary of the treasury soon will recommend to congress a material reduction of the internal revenue tax on distilled spirits and an increase in the tax on beer. This action will be taken on the ground that the present tax of $1.10 per gallon is above the revenue producing point. Some days ago Senator Cullom introduced a resolution, which was adopted, calling upon the secretary for his views on the subject, and the commissioner of internal revenue has now in preparation a report to the secretary covering the facts involved.

This report will show that since the increase of the tax on spirits from 90 cents to $1.10 a gallon illicit distilling has increased to a point almost if not quite beyond control. This is the case particularly in the mountainous districts in the south. Recently evidence has been obtained of its extension into the north. A short time ago a large quantity of illicit whisky was captured in Montana, and an investigation disclosed the fact that it was manufactured in Nebraska. That it is rapidly increasing and extending in many directions internal revenue officers say is beyond doubt, and with only the $50,000 appropriated by congress for the detection and suppression of illicit distilling the internal revenue bureau is almost helpless to stem the tide.

Just what reduction will be recommended is not known, but there are reasons for believing that 90 cents, the rate collected under the McKinley bill, will be fixed upon. Under the lower rate it is contended that the inducements for violating the law would be reduced and at the same time the revenues would not suffer. No definite conclusion has been yet reached as to what the recommendation as to the tax on beer shall be, but it is altogether probable that an increase will be advised.

Senators Allison and Aldrich have been placing the finishing touches to the tariff bill. They were the only members of the sub-committee in the city. The bill has been completed in all essential particulars and now only remains to be put in shape for presentation to the Democrats. The sub-committee is still, however, receiving suggestions from other senators, Messrs. Quay, Penrose, Foraker and Smith being among those who called.

The members of the sub-committee declined to reveal the changes agreed upon even to their senatorial callers. Indeed, senators generally are as ignorant of the amendments agreed upon as is the general public, and it is safe to say that the report, when made, will contain many surprises.

The Republican members of the committee are still negotiating with the Democratic members to secure an understanding as to the time to be consumed in considering the bill in full committee, but have not succeeded in securing any definite agreement. The Democrats say that the length of time taken in committee will depend entirely upon the character of the amendments.

It is understood to be one of the purposes of the Democratic members of the finance committee to offer several amendments and force a vote on them, so as to put the Republicans on record, and they count upon having the cooperation of Senator Jones of Nevada on some of their propositions. Senator Jones' position appears to be that he will demand certain concessions, most of them effecting western interests and that if he does not secure them from the Republicans he will join the Democrats in order to get them, and some at least of the Democratic members have indicated a willingness to assist him.

THE EXPORTS OF GOLD.

Treasury Officials Not Alarmed Over the Matter.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The withdrawal from the New York sub-treasury of $4,000,000 in gold coin and bullion for export is not viewed with apprehension at the treasury department, old officials of the department calling attention to the fact that during the last 20 years and more there has been an annual outward movement of gold from this country to Europe, usually beginning in April or May, and ending in midsummer and a corresponding return movement during the winter months. The last three years, however, have been marked by normal gold movements based on abnormal conditions which it is said no longer exist.

Several reasons are given for the present gold export movement, of which reasons the heavy importations to take advantage of the proposed new tariff law is regarded as the weightiest.

The customs receipts for April 30 amounted to $2,279,476, as compared with $883,576 for April 30 last year; for the present month the customs receipts aggregate $24,454,351, as compared with $11,815,731 for April, 1896. The duties paid, of course, constitute only a fraction of the cost of the goods imported for which settlements must be made in gold.

The money spent by American tourists abroad, which has been estimated as high as $150,000,000 a year, is another factor in the problem. The demand for foreign bills on this account has begun already and is likely to continue for some months. Another factor is the heavy purchases of gold on Austrian and Japanese account. During the first ten days in the present month the Bank of England alone lost about $5,000,000 to Japan and Austria-Hungary.

The apprehension of a great conflict among the powers, growing out of the war between Turkey and Greece and the recent decision of the supreme court against the railroad traffic combinations, it is thought, also may have been contributory causes to the present necessity of shipping gold abroad. Whatever the cause, no alarm is felt here as to the outcome, the present stock of gold in the treasury, $153,354,638 being regarded as ample to meet any emergency without in the least impairing our credit at home or abroad.

SEVEN FIENDS MOBBED.

Six Hung to Limbs In Texas, While the Seventh Is Missing—The Victims Committed Horrible Crimes For Only $30. Mob Mostly Negroes.

HOUSTON, May 1.—For three murders, ravishing two girls and burning down the humble home of their poor victims and incinerating the bodies six, perhaps seven, negroes have suffered the death penalty at the hands of a mob of their own race.

A mob of negroes took from a room at Sunnyside, Tex., where they were being guarded, Fayette Rhone, aged 21; Will Gates, 35; Lewis Thomas, 20; Aaron Thomas, 18; Jim Thomas, 14; Benny Thomas, 15, the four latter being brothers, and Will Williams, all negroes, and hanged the first six named to an oak tree. The seventh was hanged, but has disappeared. Several shots were heard shortly after the mob took them from the room, and he may have tried to escape.

The negroes all confessed to having murdered Henry Daniels, an old negro, his stepdaughter, Marie, and a 7-year-old child, burning the bodies of the two oldest by setting fire to the cabin where the crime occurred, and throwing the little one's body into a well. Old man Daniels had the proceeds of a robbery which the Thomas boys had committed and they demanded it of him under pain of death. They outraged the grown girl and the 7-year-old girl and then killed both.

Last fall a German from Brenham was robbed of $65. Suspicion pointed to the four Thomas boys and they confessed to having committed the theft, saying they had given $30 of the money to Henry Daniels. Daniels spent the money and on Sunday evening last the four Thomas boys, according to their confession, decided to either collect their $30 or kill Daniels. Their horrible crime followed.

Some white men were also in the mob.

NEW PENSION CHIEFS.

Evans Names Those Who Will Work In the Law Division.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Commissioner of Pensions Evans has appointed S. A. Cuddy chief of the law division and also the following assistant chiefs:

Assistant medical referee, Dr. C. F. Whitney of Illinois; board of revision, J. S. Ray; middle division, E. M. Young of Iowa; western, J. E. Hart of West Virginia and E. M. Finch of New York; southern, J. W. Watson of California; eastern, F. E. Camp of Vermont and W. P. Seville of Pennsylvania; old war and navy, W. L. Chamberlain of Indiana and Louis Reinburg of Illinois.

OPENED BY THE PRESIDENT.

Touched a Button at Noon Starting the Tennessee Exposition.

NASHVILLE, May 1.—The Tennessee centennial exposition was opened for the reception of visitors this morning at 8 o'clock. The inaugural attendance is variously estimated at from 35,000 to 50,000.

The ceremonies at the opening were very simple. A civic parade occupied the early morning hours in the city, ending at the grounds, where brief addresses were made by exposition, state and city officials. Exactly at noon President McKinley, seated in the White House, touched the button, which by electric current, set the machinery of the exposition in motion.

Three Found Dead.

BIDDEFORD, Me., May 1.—A message from Bar Mills announces that John L. Lane, wife and child, have been found dead at Bountiful Eagle. It is supposed that a double murder and suicide was committed.

More Turkish Troops.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—The report that Osman Pasha is on his way to Janina, Epirus, with 30,000 additional Turkish troops is confirmed.

The Queen Returns to England.

LONDON, May 1.—Queen Victoria has reached Portsmouth from Cherbourg on her return from the south of France.

is much uneasiness on account of several soft spots in the Louisiana levees in those vicinities. They are being closely watched, but should they begin to slough no force available at present will be able to do more than give the alarm.

URGED M'KINLEY'S ELECTION.

CLEVELAND, May 1.—A committee consisting of James M. Richardson of Ohio, Hon. E. J. Hill of Connecticut, Samuel E. Gross of Illinois, George H. Shields of Missouri and Nathan Warren of Massachusetts has been appointed by the Sons of the American Revolution convention to confer with a similar committee of the Sons of the Revolution relative to the amalgamation of the two organizations. If they agree upon a scheme of union, the congress will meet in Cincinnati, Oct. 12, to consider their report.

A permanent committee of 13 was appointed to appeal to congress to prevent the use of the American flag for advertising purposes. Another committee was appointed to consider the purchase by the government of a private cemetery in Ohio where 2,000 men who fought in the war of 1812, some of them revolutionary soldiers, are buried. Officers were elected as follows:

President, General Edwin S. Barrett, Massachusetts; vice presidents, General Robert S. Anderson of California, John Whitehead of New Jersey, James Richardson of Ohio, S. E. Gross of Illinois and J. C. Breckinridge; secretary general, E. J. Hill of Connecticut; treasurer, General C. W. Haskins of New York; registrar general, A. H. Clark of Washington; historian general, Henry Hall of New York; chaplain, Bishop Cheney of Chicago.

When the election was made the order of business, General Breckinridge urged that President McKinley be elected president general of the society. There was some opposition to this, on the ground that he would not have time to devote to the duties of the office and that politicians might seek to use the society for selfish purposes.

Last evening a banquet was held at the Hollenden, a number of the distinguished men present and responded to toasts.

EXPECT TO GET MILLIONS.

The Ball Family at Toronto Get Pleasant Information.

STUBENVILLE, O., May 1.—The members of the Ball family at Toronto, O., have been informed that they are among the 245 legal heirs to an estate of millions of dollars left by Joseph Ball, who died intestate in Philadelphia in 1821. The property is said to include what was the "Hope" farm in Philadelphia.

There were 485 acres of it, and most of it was leased for 99 years, and this lease expired recently. There is also land in Washington City, 50,000 acres each in Kentucky and Pennsylvania, 285,000 acres in Virginia, which includes 25,000 acres in "Tyger" valley, 5,500 acres in the Susquehanna and 77,000 acres in Georgia; also tracts of land in Maryland and Texas.

The Joseph Ball who died intestate was interested in merchant marine and some of his vessels were destroyed by the French privateers, which claims were settled in the "Louisiana purchase" by the United States from France. The estate of Joseph Ball is interested in the settlement of these claims.

The royal arms have been stripped from the carriages in order that the occupant may drive about unrecognized and thus avoid a similar experience. As another indication of popular feeling, I may point out that many of the tradesmen who have been wont to display the royal escutcheon in front of their shops have removed these.

"While a priest was offering prayers for King George and the royal family in one of the prominent churches he was interrupted by protests from the congregation. The ring-leader was arrested, but the disorder was so great that many women fainted in terror."

ATHENS, May 1.—Your correspondent has had an interview with M. Ralli. He said:

"The new cabinet has not yet had time to frame a program. The reports from the front addressed to my predecessor lacked clearness, and I decided therefore that it would be wise to send two members of the cabinet to Pharsalos in order to encourage the army, which is fighting valiantly and to investigate the condition of affairs."

The report of the retreat in Epirus is confirmed. The Greeks are abandoning all the positions they had occupied, except Salagora. Philippiada is among the places evacuated.

There is no news from Arta, but it is rumored that the Greek forces which have been operating in Epirus against the Turks are retreating.

At a cabinet council it was decided that the minister of war, Colonel Tomassos, and the minister of the interior, M. Theotokis, should proceed to Pharsalos in order to ascertain the condition of the Greek forces there.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—The porte announces that the heights commanding Nechesta and Cravan-Serai, beyond Pentepigadia, Epirus, have been occupied by the Turkish troops.

TRADE NOT PLEASING.

HELPED TO DEPRESS GRAIN.

Exports of Gold and the Remote Prospect For Final Action of Congress on the Revenue Question Also Disappointing—Big Export of Wool.

NEW YORK, May 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: In spite of moderate improvement in most of the great industries business is disappointing. Expectations of a speedy end of the war in Europe through Turkish victory have helped to depress grain. Demands of Austria and China have caused exports of $6,500,000 in gold, merchandise and imports are greatly increased and final action of congress on the revenue question seems more remote.

Wheat rose last Saturday 2 cents, but has fallen since that day about 5 cents. This is largely because European markets did not sustain the expectation of a great foreign demand after the outbreak of war, and because events appeared to foreshadow speedy peace, but the tidings from wheat-growing states, the receipts from farms and the enormous exports of corn, all had influence. Corn exports have been 13,250,197 bushels in four weeks, against 4,496,679 last year, while Atlantic exports of wheat in the same weeks, flour included, have been only 4,281,348 bushels, against 4,597,215 last year. Nor is this surprising, for if in use two bushels of corn only equal one bushel of wheat, two bushels of corn would cost about 60 cents, and the one bushel of wheat nearly 80 cents. Western receipts have been reduced, perhaps in part by floods and interruption of traffic.

The exports of gold would not have much influence if there were not an extraordinary increase in merchandise imports and some decrease in exports from New York, large for the last week, and 5 per cent for April. Imports have increased about 60 per cent over last year for the week and for four weeks have been 30 per cent greater.

At Boston imports of wool have been extraordinary, and at Philadelphia they have amounted for the month to $1,278,000. The thought that this abnormal increase may continue as long as action on the revenue bill is deferred, tends to effect exchange, but the main influence at present is the exceptional demand for reconstruction of the Austrian monetary system and for Japan.

Of the great industries the iron and steel manufacture is slower in advancing now, as it was much the quicker in the winter. Partly because the increase in production in pig was then too rapid, partly because enormous contracts taken when the different pools broke down went mainly to the larger concerns, and perhaps even more because possibilities of new development remain, there is great hesitation now in placing orders. Reports of pending negotiations between the Illinois Steel and Minnesota Iron companies point to an important change as possible. Prices of Mesaba ore have not yet been established, though ore better than fayal has been sold at $2.45 to $2.50, and pig is weaker. Bessemer at $0.50, with one sale of 2,000 tons for $0.25 at Pittsburgh and Grey forge at $8.50. Nails are about 5 cents per keg lower and timbers 5 cents per box, and eastern quotations are frequently shaded to secure business.

There is more business in cotton and woolen goods and a little better tone in prices, some cotton and some woolen goods having slightly advanced without general change. The mills are rather better employed and the demand is apparently increasing, though not enough in wool to induce manufacturers to purchase. But imports have been enormous; if current reports are not in error, more than 100,000,000 pounds in April alone, Philadelphia having received over 8,000,000 pounds in four weeks, New York over 24,000,000 pounds and Boston apparently over 65,000,000 pounds.

Sales for the past four months have been 180,302,650 pounds, including 92,943,400 pounds domestic, and for the whole year 351,892,881 pounds, including 213,352,631 pounds domestic, but in 1892-3 sales were 308,646,855 pounds.

Failures for the week have been 237 in the United States, against 238 last year, and 40 in Canada, against 31 last year.

A Government Employee Found Guilty.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Philip McElhone, formerly employed in the congressional library, has been found guilty of feloniously taking and carrying away from the library certain valuable historic documents. Notice of a motion for a new trial was given. The defendant was subsequently released on $3,000 bond.

Republican Committee Called.

FINDLAY, May 1.—H. P. Crouse, chairman of the Republican state central committee, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee to be held at the Neal House, Columbus, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of May 7, for the purpose of selecting a time and place for holding the Republican state convention.

WANTS THE BEER TAX INCREASED

The Increase on Spirits Has Caused Illicit Distilling to Grow Beyond Government Control—Less Tax Would Reduce Inducements to Violate the Law.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—It is very probable that the secretary of the treasury soon will recommend to congress a material reduction of the internal revenue tax on distilled spirits and an increase in the tax on beer. ## PROTECTING GREEKS IN TURKEY.

This Action Taken In Spite of the Refusal of the Porte to Recognize Such Privilege—Royal Family In Danger. The Turks Win.

LONDON, May 1.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle, Mr. Henry Norman, says the report is current there that France has proposed to the other powers a suspension of hostilities and the summoning of a congress, at which the rectification of the Greek frontier on the basis of the treaty of Berlin might be considered.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—In response to notes from the French, Russian and British ambassadors, the Turkish government has announced that the expulsion of Greek subjects from Turkish territory is postponed to a period of eight days from May 3.

Meanwhile the French consulate is issuing certificates of protection and by this act is causing general comment in official circles, as the porto has not yet recognized France as the protector of Greek Catholics in Turkey.

LONDON, May 1.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Vienna says that the situation of the Greek royal family is now critical.

The Times' correspondent at Athens says today: "The storm which threatened to break seems to have passed away. The new cabinet contains several men of excellent talent, and the election is generally well received. Nevertheless angry mutterings are still heard and the sky may soon darken."

"The newspapers say that a strong Turkish force from Janina co-operating with the Turkish garrison at Pentepe-gadie attacked the Greek position there and that the Greeks, after an obstinate resistance, were compelled to retreat to Arta. Two companies fell into disorder, and, on arriving at Arta, threw the town into a state of panic. The inhabitants fled terrorstricken.

"It is believed that the sudden advance of the Turks in Epirus is due to the apprehension that the powers will soon insist upon an armistice, in which case the Greeks might be allowed to retain the positions captured in Epirus.

"The news from Thessaly also is unfavorable. Fighting at Velestino has been resumed. The Greek right repelled vigorous cavalry charges, but their left, though supported by reinforcements under Colonel Mavronichali, was compelled to retire. It is feared that their position at Pharsalos will be outflanked, thus compelling a retreat to Domokos."

A dispatch to The Times from Larissa says: "Volo has surrendered to a farce of Turkish cavalry. The garrison yielded up its arms without resisting."

The Standard's correspondent at Athens says: "As the Crown Princess Sophia was returning from a visit to the Ambulance hospital she was hissed and jeered by the crowd which forced her to return to the hospital. The royal carriage was then summoned and the princess drove to the palace at the top of the speed of her horses."

"The royal arms have been stripped from the carriages in order that the occupant may drive about unrecognized and thus avoid a similar experience. As another indication of popular feeling, I may point out that many of the tradesmen who have been wont to display the royal escutcheon in front of their shops have removed these."

President, General Edwin S. Barrett, Massachusetts; vice presidents, General Robert S. Anderson of California, John Whitehead of New Jersey, James Richardson of Ohio, S. E. Gross of Illinois and J. C. Breckinridge; secretary general, E. J. Hill of Connecticut; treasurer, General C. W. Haskins of New York; registrar general, A. H. Clark of Washington; historian general, Henry Hall of New York; chaplain, Bishop Cheney of Chicago.

When the election was made the order of business, General Breckinridge urged that President McKinley be elected president general of the society. There was some opposition to this, on the ground that he would not have time to devote to the duties of the office and that politicians might seek to use the society for selfish purposes.

Last evening a banquet was held at the Hollenden, a number of the distinguished men present and responded to toasts.

EXPECT TO GET MILLIONS.

The Ball Family at Toronto Get Pleasing Information.

STEUBENVILLE, O., May 1.—The members of the Ball family at Toronto, O., have been informed that they are among the 245 legal heirs to an estate of millions of dollars left by Joseph Ball, who died intestate in Philadelphia in 1821. The property is said to include what was the "Hope" farm in Philadelphia.

There were 485 acres of it, and most of it was leased for 99 years, and this lease expired recently. There is also land in Washington City, 50,000 acres each in Kentucky and Pennsylvania, 285,000 acres in Virginia, which includes 25,000 acres in "Tyger" valley, 5,500 acres in the Susquehanna and 77,000 acres in Georgia; also tracts of land in Maryland and Texas.

The Joseph Ball who died intestate was interested in merchant marine and some of his vessels were destroyed by the French privateers, which claims were settled in the "Louisiana purchase" by the United States from France. The estate of Joseph Ball is interested in the settlement of these claims.

King's Daughters' Convention.

AKRON, O., May 1.—The state convention of the King's Daughters and Sons is in session in the Grace Reformed church of this city. Over 200 delegates, representing every city in the state, are present. Mrs. Isabella C. Davis of New York city led the devotional exercises. Mrs. B. F. Andrews, president of the local union, delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. Thomas Fischer of Ashtabula. Miss Florence L. Hess, the state secretary, read her report, and Mrs. Alice Danner Jones of Canton made an address.

Hard Man to Kill.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 1.—William David Shaw of Lake City wrote a letter, in which he declared there was nothing in sight but misery and starvation, plead for mercy for his soul and asked his friends to put his body "in any old place." Then he drank two ounces of laudanum and shot himself clear through the body, yet he is expected to live.

American to Be Expelled.

HAVANA, May 1.—The case against the insurgent leader, Jose Loretto Capero, a naturalized American citizen, who was captured last year on board a coasting vessel, has been dismissed. He probably will be expelled from Cuba.

Sentenced to Hang In Georgia.

ATLANTA, May 1.—H. S. Perry of Atlanta, who killed Bely Lanier at Decatur, March 8, alleging that Lanier had been guilty of an assault upon the person of his (Perry's) wife, has been sentenced to hang May 21.

Dunlop Taken to Prison.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Joseph R. Dunlop, proprietor of the Chicago Dispatch, was taken to the penitentiary at Joliet this morning at 11 o'clock under a two-year sentence for using the mails for obscene matter.

TRADE NOT PLEASING.

HELPED TO DEPRESS GRAIN.

Exports of Gold and the Remote Prospect For Final Action of Congress on the Revenue Question Also Disappointing—Big Export of Wool.

NEW YORK, May 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: In spite of moderate improvement in most of the great industries business is disappointing. Expectations of a speedy end of the war in Europe through Turkish victory have helped to depress grain. Demands of Austria and China have caused exports of $6,500,000 in gold, merchandise and imports are greatly increased and final action of congress on the revenue question seems more remote.

Wheat rose last Saturday 1 cent, but has fallen since then about 5 cents. This is largely because European markets did not sustain the expectation of a great foreign demand after the outbreak of war, and because events appeared to foreshadow speedy peace, but the tidings from wheat-growing states, the receipts from farms and the enormous exports of corn, all had influence. Corn exports have been 13,250,197 bushels in four weeks, against 4,496,679 last year, while Atlantic exports of wheat in the same weeks, flour included, have been only 4,281,348 bushels, against 4,597,215 last year. Nor is this surprising, for, if in use two bushels of wheat only equal one bushel of wheat, two bushels of corn would cost about 60 cents, and the one bushel of wheat nearly

POTTERS URGE TARIFF

Telegrams by the Dozen Flashed to Washington.

EXPRESSION FROM OPERATIVES

There Was Some Danger of the Senate Refusing to Pass the Schedule as It Was Desired, and the Expression In Its Favor Was Prompt.

Confident as scores of persons connected with the pottery industry have grown since the inauguration of President McKinley there was a scare in the city yesterday afternoon which for a few minutes caused some to think that perhaps their dreams of prosperity were in vain and nothing would come of the Republican victory last November. Fortunately it was only a scare.

It has been known for some time that a disposition had appeared in Washington to modify the proposed crockery tariff. The importers made a hard fight for a reduction, and apparently there were some chances for a point in their favor. Yesterday there came to the city the news that an expression from the operatives would be of great weight, and the word was passed around. Within an hour or two telegrams from every pottery in the city had gone to Washington urging Hon. M. A. Hanna and Hon. J. B. Foraker to put forward their best efforts to secure the passage of the compound duty. The telegrams will doubtless have the desired effect since it is known that the senators are conversant with the needs of the crockery industry.

The importers have turned all their attention to fighting the proposed specific duty. That strikes deep at the evil of undervaluation, and there is something more than a suspicion that this has in the past been a source of no little revenue to the trade in New York. They have brought all the influence they can command to induce senators to see the force of their argument.

BIG FISH IN THE OHIO.

Clevelanders Were Astonished at the Size of a Trap.

The evening train from Cleveland last night carried a party of men from the lake who had never seen the Ohio. After passing Yellow creek one of them noticed a crate, such as is used in packing crockery, in the stream.

"What's that?" he asked, excitedly.

"Oh, that's a fish trap," came the answer from one of the party.

"Well, if they catch fish in this river big enough to be kept in that thing I'll never fish in the lake again," he said, and immediately they began theorizing on the size of Ohio river fish, and when the laughing East Liverpool man who had overheard the conversation left the train at this city they were planning a fishing trip to this vicinity.

SOME COURT NEWS.

All the Squires Have a Little Legal Business.

Mattie Collins yesterday commenced an action in aid of execution against Mack Hineman to collect a board bill of $35. Wages in the hands of J. C. Thompson and Clarence Green were attached. The cases will be heard Thursday.

Squire Manley this morning gave judgment for the plaintiff in the case of Hanlon versus Gourley, and a writ of restitution was issued.

Constable Lyon yesterday for the second time moved Arthur Ladjinski out of a house owned by Mr. Reed, and he was told to stay out. It is thought this will have the desired effect, and the new tenant may move in unmolested.

BIG PAY

Has Almost Become a Thing of the Misty Past.

"Big pay is almost a thing of the past," said a manufacturer who keeps pace with the times. "There was a time when very little money was paid on one Saturday, and a great deal on the next, but that has about gone, and there is really very little difference in the amounts distributed on the two days. Of course there is some, but the number of kilns included in the potteries required to make up big pay is very little more than those of the other. It seems almost wicked to do away with this time-honored institution, but it is a fact."

A Header.

A small boy riding an old fashioned safety bicycle last evening ran into a gentleman at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets. The boy took a header, but the gentleman sustained no injuries beyond a severe shock to his nervous system.

ORDERED THE DIPLOMAS

School Board Prepares For Commencement.

COMMITTEES FOR BUILDINGS

President Vodrey Distributed the Work Among the Members—Two Notes Are Due—It Was Not a Busy Session, and They Went Home Early.

The board of education met last evening with President Vodrey in the chair. Scriptures were read and prayer offered by the chair after which the meeting was opened. Owing to the temporary absence of the clerk the minutes were laid over.

M. Pittinger spoke of children romping over the Grant school grounds. The janitor will be notified to keep the children off the place. Otherwise the law will be enforced. The superintendent will also notify the several teachers in reference to the matter.

Professor Sanor said there would be 23 scholars in the graduating class this year, and he requested the board to act upon the purchasing of twenty-three diplomas. There is always a rush in May for these and the board authorized Professor Sanor to order them from a Cleveland firm.

The following gentlemen were appointed to look after the wants of the several schools: Mr. Fisher, East End; Mr. Norris, Central; Mr. Cripps, Sixth street; Mr. McLain, West End; Mr. McGraw, Trentvale; and Mr. Pittinger, Grant.

Clerk Norris presented a notice from the bank calling attention to the fact that a note of $5,000 was due May 2. Mr. Fisher moved to pay an equal amount to them, and let the balance stand, as the school fund advance was not due until June 10. The motion was carried. Each bank will receive $2,500.

An agent selling door mats and window screens was then introduced, but after displaying his ware failed to secure an order. Mr. McLain moved to adjourn and they adjourned.

SHORT MEMORIES

May Be the Cause of Peuniary Loss to Someone.

It requires the entire time of a police officer, from 7 to 9 p.m., to keep the corner loafers on the move. They are told repeatedly to move on, and do so when the officer is present, but as soon as he passes out of sight they take their old places and remain until the officer appears again. Patience has almost ceased to be a virtue with the officers, and some of the loafers may consider themselves lucky if they are not asked to pay for their short memories.

NELSON MAY SUE.

He Has Not Yet Decided on That Point.

James Nelson, who had his leg broken some time ago by stumbling over a street washer in Broadway, was out yesterday for the first time. He was asked by a reporter whether he intended to sue for damages, and replied that he had not fully made up his mind, but would in all probability do so. As soon as he regains his health sufficiently he will consult an attorney, and lay the case before him to see if he can recover for his injuries.

A DIRTY SPOT

Was Cleaned by the Commissioner And His Force.

The commissioner and his force yesterday cleaned the Eighth street culvert and the bed of the run for a distance of fifty feet. At the lower end of the culvert the dirt had piled up for four feet, and the stench arising therefrom was almost unbearable. Today the force are cleaning the alleys east of Broadway. All alleys in the central part of the city have been cleaned, and the force expect to finish this line of their work in two days.

THE STREETS ARE CLEAN

Since the Ordinance Is Being Vigorously Enforced.

The paved streets last evening presented the cleanest appearance for many months. There was not a sign of paper anywhere, and the contrast with two weeks ago shows that the enforcing of the ordinance has had a very good effect. It is not a hard job to see that people obey the ordinance to the letter, as everybody is interested in seeing that the streets are kept clean.

Protecting Pedestrians.

Work was commenced this morning on the third story of the Arbuckle block. A temporary awning has been erected over the sidewalk to protect pedestrians.

WELLSVILLE.

SOME RACY TESTIMONY

Was Brought Out at a Hearing Before the Mayor.

Mayor Jones was too ill yesterday to look after official matters, but in his own home heard the testimony in the case of Maud Welch. She was charged with conducting a questionable resort in Hogan's alley, and many of the statements made in defense of the accused were highly amusing. After a number of witnesses had been heard the mayor found her guilty and fined her $5.

ENJOYED THE CONCERT.

The Choral Class Entertained a Large Audience.

The choral class taught by Prof. S. S. Myers, of Cleveland, gave a highly enjoyable concert at the Methodist Protestant church last evening. The program, a very good one, was given in a manner decidedly pleasing, and the singing by the class was exceptionally good. A vote was taken, and resulted in the class employing the professor for another term.

The News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Robert Black is visiting in Irondale.

The little child of Harvey Mick was buried this morning.

Frank Whitney entertained a party of friends Thursday evening.

Miss Zana Smith very pleasantly entertained a large number of friends last evening.

Leroy Miller, of West End, had the misfortune to step on a nail, and now has a very sore foot.

Mrs. Will Aughenbaugh is so ill that the doctors and her friends have little hope for her recovery.

Engineer George, of Liverpool, and County Surveyor Farmer, of Lisbon, were in town establishing a line.

Parties who travel by wagon between the two cities are hoping the commissioners will soon do something toward repairing the road. It is worthless at present.

PLAYED WITH A KNIFE.

Jerry Callahan Now Has a Cut In His Hand.

Jerry Callahan is suffering with a bad cut in his hand. Yesterday afternoon at West End park he began scuffling with Thomas Clark. Clark had an open knife in his hand, and during the scuffle in some way it was drawn across the back of the hand of Callahan inflicting a gash two inches in length. It was dressed immediately, but it will lay him up for a few days. The boys were in fun, and the cut given was purely accidental.

MAY WEATHER.

What the Weather Prophets Promise For the Month.

All kinds of weather are promised for May. Unsettled describes what will be from the 3d to the 12th, but the greatest storm period will be from the 7th to the 11th. Storms of much violence will prevail between the 14th and 21st, and the 24th and 25th will be marked by rain and bluster. The month goes out in a regular storm period. In spite of all this, Hicks promises abundant sunshine.

A BIG CAMP

Will Be Established In the Tuscarawas Valley.

The East Liverpool Athletic club boys have completed their arrangements for the summer's outing, and anticipate even more pleasant time than was enjoyed last year. They will pitch their tents on the banks of the Tuscarawas river not far from New Philadelphia, and will spend the two weeks immediately following the Fourth of July enjoying themselves. It is expected that the party will be made up of no less than 40 persons.

AN ADDITION

Will Be Built to the Palestine Pottery.

The new pottery at Palestine is not yet being operated to its fullest capacity, yet the company have found that additional room is a necessity. It has been decided to erect an addition north of the pottery. It will be 100x40, and will be used as a warehouse and packing room. The present warehouse will be used as a decorating shop. The new shapes recently put out are selling well.

Hon. R. W. Taylor In Literature.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

Secretary Baer Announces Very Low Rates to San Francisco.

CHICAGO, May 1.—General Secretary Baer has arrived from Boston and saw Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association. Tuesday the new Western Passenger association will take final action upon the detail plans for handling the Christian Endeavor convention traffic to California. Mr. Baer said:

"The next international convention will be held in San Francisco July 7 to 12, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. San Francisco Endeavorers have raised a fund of $25,000 with which to meet the necessary business expenses, the business men contributing over $15,000. The Mechanics pavilion will be reconstructed so as to seat nearly 10,000, and the Woodwards Garden pavilion has also been secured with its 6,000 seats."

"The program is the very strongest ever prepared by the national society. Prominent Christian workers from Australia, India, England, Ireland, Scotland, Canada and the United States are to be present. The railroad rates at last agreed upon by the western lines have never before been so low and favorable. Tickets will be sold between Chicago and San Francisco for $25 each way and $23 from St. Louis. The western and southern roads have granted a one-fare rate for the round trip from points east to Chicago and St. Louis. We look for a large gathering next July, at least 4,000 or 5,000 from east of the Missouri river and 10,000 to 12,000 from the Pacific coast."

ANOTHER DIVORCE SCANDAL.

A Legislature Committee Appointed In Delaware to Investigate Charges.

DOVER, Del., May 1.—Speaker Riggin of the house named Messrs. Hazell, Cheairs and Johnson a committee to examine into the current newspaper charges of bribery in connection with the various divorce claims before the general assembly.

The Acklin scandal, in which it has been hinted that certain officials of the general assembly were implicated, bids fair to be outstripped by the Gouse case, which has been withdrawn by the counsel for the applicant and will be presented before the supreme court of New Castle county. Mrs. Mary S. Gouse, nee White, of Philadelphia, is seeking a divorce from H. Victor Gouse of Wilmington, and her counsel is J. Hoffecker, Jr., of that town.

Mr. Hoffecker charges that he was seen by every member of the two committees on divorces, except Senator Pierce, and that at least two of his visitors wanted to know "what was in it" for them. They wanted about $2,000, they said, to fix several of their associates.

MADE GRAVE CHARGES.

Mineworkers' Officials Say DeArmit Tried to Bribe Them.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—The closing session of the investigation of coal mining conditions by the legislative committee narrowed down to a fight between the officials of the United Mineworkers and W. P. DeArmit and all who stand by him.

President Do'an and Secretary Warner of the United Mine Workers made explicit charges against W. P. DeArmit that he had attempted to bribe them.

Mr. DeArmit, in offering testimony in rebuttal, was just as positive that he had never offered money or valuables to either of them for any service whatever, nor to assist the organization.

Meeting of U. B. Bishops.

DAYTON, O., May 1.—The bishops of the United Brethren church are in session at the publishing house in this city arranging the report to the general conference, which meets at Toledo, Ia., on May 13. Those present are Bishops M. Weaver, Dayton; E. B. Kephart, Baltimore; J. W. Hott, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; N. Castle, Elkhart, Ind., and J. S. Mills, Eugene, Or.

Hill Confesses Murder.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—The colored man arrested as Phil Hill, the murderer of Labor Boss George Lawrence, at Cheswick, turns out to be the right man. The prisoner confessed to Detective Fitzgerald that he had shot Lawrence. Earl Banks, colored, who was with Hill at the time of the shooting, told the detectives that Hill fired the fatal shot.

Miners' Wages Advanced.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 1.—The committee of the Schuylkill Coal Exchange fixed the rate of wages to be paid miners in this region for the last half of April and the first half of May at $2.66. This is 6 per cent above the $2.50 basis.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The queen regent of Spain, Maria Christina, is ill, with nervous prostration.

The Chilean squadron arrived at Rio Janeiro and was given a magnificent reception. The government has arranged a program of public fetes.

Commander C. C. Todd has been detached from the Norfolk navy yard and ordered to command the Wilmington, May 10. Commander E. White has been ordered to command the Monongahela.

The secretary of state has issued a warrant for the surrender to the Swedish authorities of Nils Gustaf Flygt, who has been held in New York by Commissioner Alexander for return to Sweden, on a charge of forgery.

The health department of Baltimore has been called upon to look into the condition of a number of bakeries reported to be in a filthy state.

The revolving jail at Dover, N. H., can be turned on a pivot any hour and the inmates can see the country hills and factory chimneys at every point of the compass.

The anti cigarette bill passed by the last Maine legislature, and which will go into effect May 1, contains no provision for its enforcement.

Shirt Waists.

The big demand we are having for shirt waists shows that we have the right styles, and that our prices are the lowest in the city. We got in more new ones this week. 25 more silk shirt waists, in different shades, at $2.50. A new line of silk waists in dress style and shirt waist style, worth $7.50, we will sell at $4.98, which is less than you can buy the material alone.

Wash Goods.

Our trade is delighted with our line of wash goods, and more so with our price, which is always below others. 10c dimity, our price 6c. 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c dimity, our low price 8c. Our 10c and 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c line cannot be matched for 15c. Lappert stripes, the newest thing in wash goods, worth 25c, our price 15c. Very fine organdie for 25c, sold everywhere for 39c. Our line of white goods in plain, checks and stripes, is the largest, and the prices the lowest. White organdies at 15c, 19c and 22 $\frac{1}{2}$ c, worth a good deal more.

House Furnishings.

We have sold more than twice as many curtains this season than we ever did before. The reason is plain. Our selection and prices are not to be matched anywhere. Our prices begin at 33c for a 50c curtain and go up to \$5.50. Our \$1, \$1.49 and \$2.25 lines are our great leaders, and they are worth from 50c to a \$1 a pair more. A yard wide draperies for 9c. Lawns at 5c, 7c, 9c, 10c and 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c a yard. Tapestry curtains and covers at away down prices. The commissioner and his force yesterday cleaned the Eighth street culvert and the bed of the run for a distance of fifty feet. At the lower end of the culvert the dirt had piled up for four feet, and the stench arising therefrom was almost unbearable. Today the force are cleaning the alleys east of Broadway. All alleys in the central part of the city have been cleaned, and the force expect to finish this line of their work in two days.

THE STREETS ARE CLEAN

Since the Ordinance Is Being Vigorously Enforced.

The paved streets last evening presented the cleanest appearance for many months. There was not a sign of paper anywhere, and the contrast with two weeks ago shows that the enforcing of the ordinance has had a very good effect. It is not a hard job to see that people obey the ordinance to the letter, as everybody is interested in seeing that the streets are kept clean.

Protecting Pedestrians.

Work was commenced this morning on the third story of the Arbuckle block. A temporary awning has been erected over the sidewalk to protect pedestrians.

WELLSVILLE.

SOME RACY TESTIMONY

Was Brought Out at a Hearing Before the Mayor.

Mayor Jones was too ill yesterday to look after official matters, but in his own home heard the testimony in the case of Maud Welch. She was charged with conducting a questionable resort in Hogan's alley, and many of the statements made in defense of the accused were highly amusing. After a number of witnesses had been heard the mayor found her guilty and fined her $5.

ENJOYED THE CONCERT.

The Choral Class Entertained a Large Audience.

The choral class taught by Prof. S. S. Myers, of Cleveland, gave a highly enjoyable concert at the Methodist Protestant church last evening. The program, a very good one, was given in a manner decidedly pleasing, and the singing by the class was exceptionally good. A vote was taken, and resulted in the class employing the professor for another term.

The News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Robert Black is visiting in Irondale.

The little child of Harvey Mick was buried this morning.

Frank Whitney entertained a party of friends Thursday evening.

Miss Zana Smith very pleasantly entertained a large number of friends last evening.

Leroy Miller, of West End, had the misfortune to step on a nail, and now has a very sore foot.

Mrs. Will Aughenbaugh is so ill that the doctors and her friends have little hope for her recovery.

Engineer George, of Liverpool, and County Surveyor Farmer, of Lisbon, were in town establishing a line.

Parties who travel by wagon between the two cities are hoping the commissioners will soon do something toward repairing the road. It is worthless at present.

PLAYED WITH A KNIFE.

Jerry Callahan Now Has a Cut In His Hand.

Jerry Callahan is suffering with a bad cut in his hand. Yesterday afternoon at West End park he began scuffling with Thomas Clark. Clark had an open knife in his hand, and during the scuffle in some way it was drawn across the back of the hand of Callahan inflicting a gash two inches in length. It was dressed immediately, but it will lay him up for a few days. The boys were in fun, and the cut given was purely accidental.

MAY WEATHER.

What the Weather Prophets Promise For the Month.

All kinds of weather are promised for May. Unsettled describes what will be from the 3d to the 12th, but the greatest storm period will be from the 7th to the 11th. Storms of much violence will prevail between the 14th and 21st, and the 24th and 25th will be marked by rain and bluster. The month goes out in a regular storm period. In spite of all this, Hicks promises abundant sunshine.

A BIG CAMP

Will Be Established In the Tuscarawas Valley.

The East Liverpool Athletic club boys have completed their arrangements for the summer's outing, and anticipate even a more pleasant time than was enjoyed last year. They will pitch their tents on the banks of the Tuscarawas river not far from New Philadelphia, and will spend the two weeks immediately following the Fourth of July enjoying themselves. It is expected that the party will be made up of no less than 40 persons.

AN ADDITION

Will Be Built to the Palestine Pottery.

The new pottery at Palestine is not yet being operated to its fullest capacity, yet the company have found that additional room is a necessity. It has been decided to erect an addition north of the pottery. It will be 100x40, and will be used as a warehouse and packing room. The present warehouse will be used as a decorating shop. The new shapes recently put out are selling well.

Hon. R. W. Tayler In Literature.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

Secretary Baer Announces Very Low Rates to San Francisco.

CHICAGO, May 1.—General Secretary Baer has arrived from Boston and saw Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association. Tuesday the new Western Passenger association will take final action upon the detail plans for handling the Christian Endeavor convention traffic to California. Mr. Baer said:

"The next international convention will be held in San Francisco July 7 to 12, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. San Francisco Endeavorers have raised a fund of $25,000 with which to meet the necessary business expenses, the business men contributing over $15,000. The Mechanics pavilion will be reconstructed so as to seat nearly 10,000, and the Woodwards Garden pavilion has also been secured with its 6,000 seats.

"The program is the very strongest ever prepared by the national society. Prominent Christian workers from Australia, India, England, Ireland, Scotland, Canada and the United States are to be present. The railroad rates at last agreed upon by the western lines have never before been so low and favorable. Tickets will be sold between Chicago and San Francisco for $25 each way and $23 from St. Louis. The western and southern roads have granted a one-fare rate for the round trip from points east to Chicago and St. Louis. We look for a large gathering next July, at least 4,000 or 5,000 from east of the Missouri river and 10,000 to 12,000 from the Pacific coast."

ANOTHER DIVORCE SCANDAL.

A Legislature Committee Appointed In Delaware to Investigate Charges.

DOVER, Del., May 1.—Speaker Riggin of the house named Messrs. Hazel, Cheairs and Johnson a committee to examine into the current newspaper charges of bribery in connection with the various divorce claims before the general assembly.

The Acklin scandal, in which it has been hinted that certain officials of the general assembly were implicated, bids fair to be outstripped by the Gouse case, which has been withdrawn by the counsel for the applicant and will be presented before the supreme court of New Castle county. Mrs. Mary S. Gouse, nee White, of Philadelphia, is seeking a divorce from H. Victor Gouse of Wilmington, and her counsel is J. Hoffecker, Jr., of that town.

Mr. Hoffecker charges that he was seen by every member of the two committees on divorces, except Senator Pierce, and that at least two of his visitors wanted to know "what was in it" for them. They wanted about $2,000, they said, to fix several of their associates.

MADE GRAVE CHARGES.

Mineworkers' Officials Say DeArmit Tried to Bribe Them.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—The closing session of the investigation of coal mining conditions by the legislative committee narrowed down to a fight between the officials of the United Mineworkers and W. P. DeArmit and all who stand by him.

President Do'an and Secretary Warner of the United Mine Workers made explicit charges against W. P. DeArmit that he had attempted to bribe them.

Mr. DeArmit, in offering testimony in rebuttal, was just as positive that he had never offered money or valuables to either of them for any service whatever, nor to assist the organization.

Meeting of U. B. Bishops.

DAYTON, O., May 1.—The bishops of the United Brethren church are in session at the publishing house in this city arranging the report to the general conference, which meets at Toledo, Ia., on May 13. Those present are Bishops M. Weaver, Dayton; E. B. Kephart, Baltimore; J. W. Hott, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; N. Castle, Elkhart, Ind., and J. S. Mills, Eugene, Or.

Hill Confesses Murder.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—The colored man arrested as Phil Hill, the murderer of Labor Boss George Lawrence, at Cheswick, turns out to be the right man. The prisoner confessed to Detective Fitzgerald that he had shot Lawrence. Earl Banks, colored, who was with Hill at the time of the shooting, told the detectives that Hill fired the fatal shot.

Miners' Wages Advanced.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 1.—The committee of the Schuylkill Coal Exchange fixed the rate of wages to be paid miners in this region for the last half of April and the first half of May at $2.66. This is 6 per cent above the $2.50 basis.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The queen regent of Spain, Maria Christina, is ill, with nervous prostration.

The Chilean squadron arrived at Rio Janeiro and was given a magnificent reception. The government has arranged a program of public fetes.

Commander C. C. Todd has been detached from the Norfolk navy yard and ordered to command the Wilmington, May 10. Commander E. White has been ordered to command the Monongahela.

The secretary of state has issued a warrant for the surrender to the Swedish authorities of Nils Gustaf Flygt, who has been held in New York by Commissioner Alexander for return to Sweden, on a charge of forgery.

The health department of Baltimore has been called upon to look into the condition of a number of bakeries reported to be in a filthy state.

The revolving jail at Dover, N. H., can be turned on a pivot any hour and the inmates can see the country hills and factory chimneys at every point of the compass.

The anti cigarette bill passed by the last Maine legislature, and which will go into effect May 1, contains no provision for its enforcement.

Shirt Waists.

The big demand we are having for shirt waists shows that we have the right styles, and that our prices are the lowest in the city. We got in more new ones this week. 25 more silk shirt waists, in different shades, at $2.50. A new line of silk waists in dress style and shirt waist style, worth $7.50, we will sell at $4.98, which is less than you can buy the material alone.

Wash Goods.

Our trade is delighted with our line of wash goods, and more so with our price, which is always below others. 10c dimity, our price 6c. 12½c dimity, our low price 8c. Our 10c and 12½c line cannot be matched for 15c. Lappert stripes, the newest thing in wash goods, worth 25c, our price 15c. Very fine organdie for 25c, sold everywhere for 39c. Our line of white goods in plain, checks and stripes, is the largest, and the prices the lowest. White organdies at 15c, 19c and 22½c, worth a good deal more.

House Furnishings.

We have sold more than twice as many curtains this season than we ever did before. The reason is plain. Our selection and prices are not to be matched anywhere. Our prices begin at 33c for a 50c curtain and go up to $5.50. Our $1, $1.49 and $2.25 lines are our great leaders, and they are worth from 50c to a $1 a pair more. A yard wide draperies for 9c. Lawns at 5c, 7c, 9c, 10c and 12½c a yard. Tapestry curtains and covers at away down prices. Tapestry for furniture recovering at 39c a yard, worth 60c. $1.25 quality, our price 75c. $2.50 quality for $1.50. A nice line of rugs at about half regular prices.

New Things for Saturday.

100 pieces of the latest styles of ribbons, in checks, stripes, gauze, changeable taffeta and watered, at prices that will interest you. New belts, new shirt waists sets, the newest things in neckwear, chiffon rushing in all shades, new laces and insertions, white collars and cuffs, 50 dozen of ladies' sailors, from 23c to 75c. Children's sailors and leghorns, from 19c and up; and many other things which we have no place to enumerate.

If you care to save your hard earned money come straight to us for everything in our line.

THE senate now has 88 members—43 Republicans, 33 Democrats and 12 Populists and silver Republicans.

HON. JIM NORTON wants the Democrats to nominate a farmer for governor. That helps the cause of Canton's mayor.

THE rain has started in Cuba, and General Weyler is once more housed in Havana doing nothing. Meantime the patriots are dealing telling blows in spite of the olive branch said to be even now on its way from Spain.

IF the Democrats ever again expect to march at the head of the political procession they must drop into line on the tariff bill, for the people will not be long in knowing that any stay of prosperity will be directly due to their efforts to kill the Dingley bill.

PENNSYLVANIA'S legislature has so amended the libel laws as to give newspapers some chance for existence. Ohio should be the next to follow. The place our state at present holds is far from the position its intelligence and civilization demands.

The patronage which has for so long filled every available inch of advertising space in the NEWS REVIEW has forced upon the management the knowledge that a change in the make up and formation of the paper was an absolute necessity. A supplement in at its best nothing short of an abomination, yet in recent months this has been resorted to in order that the demands of advertisers might be met, and there would still remain as much if not more space than that usually occupied by local and general news.

BURNED THE BIG BARN

Another Destructive Fire on the Lonas Farm.

A Large Quantity of Hay, Straw and Farming Implements Were Destroyed—The Destruction of the Oil Rig Recalled by the Fire.

The big barn of John Lonas, situated between Park and Alum Cliff place, was destroyed last midnight by fire, and if the incendiaries can be found the people of that section promise them a lesson that will not soon be forgotten.

The barn was almost half a mile from the house, and was one of the largest and best in that part of the county. It was well filled with hay and straw, and contained some valuable farming implements. Nothing of it was saved, as the fire had gained such headway before it was discovered that any attempt at putting it out could only have resulted in failure. There was some insurance, but Mr. Lonas does not know just what loss he suffered. The sheep and cattle were saved. The fire spread to the woods, but it was extinguished.

It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin, since there is no other cause to which the burning of the barn can be assigned. The derrick at the oil well on Mr. Lonas' farm was burned a few weeks ago at night, and that fire has never been satisfactorily explained. A number of rough looking characters have been seen in the vicinity for some time, and if sufficient proof can be found to show that they were the cause of the fires, it will go hard with them, for the people are thoroughly aroused. They have determined that no more barns shall be burned in that part of the country.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB.

Over Sixty Members Have Already Been Secured.

The projectors of the new Republican club are meeting with success in every way, and now have a list of over 60 names, over half of whom have paid their initiation fee. They will meet in the near future to organize and elect officers. A committee is at present making arrangements to secure quarters, and it is expected by the middle of the month to have the club running in first class condition.

In a New Position.

Frank McGinniss will today sever his connection with the Pennsylvania company. He held a responsible position in the local freight office, and his friends are sorry to see him leave. His place is being filled by C. C. Hill, of Ravenna.

Almost Well.

The little child of A. Dinerstein, who has been suffering from scarlet fever, is improving rapidly, and will soon be well. Mr. Dinerstein is justly indignant at the statement of a local paper that the little one is no better, since it has seriously injured his business. He has not been home since the disease made its appearance.

A Reward.

Mayor Gilbert received a notice from Superintendent J. A. Quay, of the Pennsylvania reform school, at Morgantown, asking him to look out for one John Shultz, a lad 19 years old and one Eugene Carroll, 17 years old. They escaped from that place April 20, and a reward of $15 is offered for their capture.

Died Last Night.

William E. Morgan died last night at his home in Lincoln avenue from an attack of consumption, aged 40 years. A wife and family are left to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place from his late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at Spring Grove.

A Small Business.

A street fakir did a small business in the Diamond this afternoon. A business man who has been watching the trade of fakirs says that this place is not the rich harvest field it was several years ago.

The Mormons.

The Mormons are holding meetings regularly, and will have another at the residence of Samuel Davidson, in Mervier street, tomorrow. Several converts are expected.

No Gift.

The report circulated several days ago that Hon. M. A. Hanna had given the Lisbon library $10,000 cannot be verified at the county seat. None of the directors have heard of the gift officially.

PERSONAL MENTION.

F. A. Leonard, of the Thompson pottery, has returned from a western trip.

Miss H. M. Brookes, who has been quite ill for some time, is improving rapidly.

Mrs. John Good and children returned this morning to Toronto after a short visit in the city.

Rev. C. L. E. Cartwright and family, of New Brighton, are the guests of W. S. McKee, of Calcutta.

Mrs. Rebecca Laughlin and son, Allen, will leave today for Kendall, Pa. Mrs. Laughlin will spend the summer there.

Charles Brown, a traveler for the Sebring pottery, is home from an extensive eastern trip. He reports a good business.

HE HAS MOVED.

Gradually Acquiring Information Concerning Methods of Collecting a Bill.

"When we moved into the country," said Mr. Changoofair, "I almost wondered at the absolute confidence of the boss of the moving party. It was a long haul, two or three vans, and the bill a matter of $40 or $50, but they moved everything out of the vans into the house clean before the boss driver presented the bill. I wondered what they would do if somebody should say then that he would call at the office and settle or something of that sort. But, then, I knew I was going to pay; that it had been perfectly safe to get the stuff in and collect the bill afterward of me, and I made up my mind that they were keen men, who knew people when they met them, whom they could trust and whom not.

"Well, after some years we moved back. Same concern moved us in, but they didn't know us at the office any more than if they had never heard of us. Arrived in the city, the men with the vans—it was a different crew from that that took us out—began lugging in the things just as the men that moved us out had done in the country. Nobody said anything about pay, and I wondered again what would happen if they got the stuff all in and then the owner didn't pay. But they kept on hustling the things in just as if they felt perfectly easy and secure about that.

"After awhile the stuff was pretty much all in—practically all but the piano—and I wondered why they hadn't brought that in before, because I had seen it loaded, and I knew it was one of the last things loaded on at the very rear end of one of the vans. So I went out to see, and there was the piano, right where I had seen it when it was put aboard, at the extreme rear end of the van, while all the stuff in front had been taken out, carried around the end of the piano and on into the house. In front of it the van was empty."

"Passing through the hall, I met the head driver, the boss of the party, and he, just casually meeting me in that way in the hall, handed over the bill for the moving, and I paid it on the spot. Then, everything else having been moved in, the whole gang tallied on to the piano and walked it right into the house.

"Of course it may have only just happened that the piano wasn't moved in until I had paid the bill, but this didn't give me quite such a flattering opinion of myself as the other way had, but it more than confirmed my original opinion of the shrewdness and ability of the van folks. They made few mistakes and took even fewer risks."—New York Sun.

BURNED THE BIG BARN

Another Destructive Fire on the Lonas Farm.

INCENDIARISM IS SUSPECTED

A Large Quantity of Hay, Straw and Farming Implements Were Destroyed—The Destruction of the Oil Rig Recalled by the Fire.

The big barn of John Lonas, situated between Park and Alum Cliff place, was destroyed last midnight by fire, and if the incendiaries can be found the people of that section promise them a lesson
that will not soon be forgotten.

The barn was almost half a mile from the house, and was one of the largest and best in that part of the county. It was well filled with hay and straw, and contained some valuable farming implements. Nothing of it was saved, as the fire had gained such headway before it was discovered that any attempt at putting
it out could only have resulted in failure.
There was some insurance, but Mr.
Lonas does not know just what loss he suffered. The sheep and cattle were saved. The fire spread to the woods,
but it was extinguished.

It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin, since there is no other cause to which the burning of the barn can be assigned. The derrick at the oil well on Mr. Lonas' farm was burned a few weeks ago at night, and that fire has never been satisfactorily explained. A number of rough looking characters have been seen in the vicinity for some time,
and if sufficient proof can be found to show that they were the cause of the fires, it will go hard with them, for the people are thoroughly aroused. They have determined that no more barns shall be burned in that part of the county.

Over Sixty Members Have Already Been Secured.

The projectors of the new Republican club are meeting with success in every way, and now have a list of over 60
names, over half of whom have paid their initiation fee. They will meet in the near future to organize and elect officers. A committee is at present making arrangements to secure quarters, and it is expected by the middle of the month to have the club running in first class condition.

In a New Position.

Frank McGinniss will today sever his connection with the Pennsylvania company. He held a responsible position in the local freight office, and his friends are sorry to see him leave. His place is being filled by C. C. Hill, of Ravenna.

Almost Well.

The little child of A. Dinerstein, who has been suffering from scarlet fever,
is improving rapidly, and will soon be well. Mr. Dinerstein is justly indignant at the statement of a local paper that the little one is no better, since it has seriously injured his business. He has not been home since the disease made its appearance.

A Reward.

Mayor Gilbert received a notice from Superintendent J. A. Quay, of the Pennsylvania reform school, at Morgantown, asking him to look out for one John Shultz, a lad 19 years old and one Eugene Carroll, 17 years old. They escaped from that place April 20, and a reward of $15 is offered for their capture.

Died Last Night.

William E. Morgan died last night at his home in Lincoln avenue from an attack of consumption, aged 40 years.
A wife and family are left to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place from his late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at Spring Grove.

A Small Business.

A street fakir did a small business in the Diamond this afternoon. A business man who has been watching the trade of fakirs says that this place is not the rich harvest field it was severa years ago.

The Mormons.

The Mormons are holding meetings regularly, and will have another at the residence of Samuel Davidson, in Minerva street, tomorrow. Several converts are expected.

No Gift.

The report circulated several days ago that Hon. M. A. Hanna had given the Lisbon library $10,000 cannot be verified
at the county seat. None of the directors have heard of the gift officially.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Doctor Ikirt was in Lisbon yesterday.

George Merideth was in Toronto today.

R. W. Sample was in Pittsburg on business.

Frank Dickey went to Pittsburg today on business.

Frank Pearson, of Beaver Falls, was in the city today.

Mr. Burgess went to Pittsburg on business today.

Mrs. Ogden is visiting friends in Pittsburg today.

Miss Floretta Freidenburg was in Pittsburg yesterday.

Thomas Beatty yesterday was an East Palestine visitor.

last evening from Lisbon.

Frank Taylor, the colored pugilist of Pittsburg, is in the city.

Mrs. Kirk, of New Cumberland, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Shay.

Mrs. Whitsell, of Allegheny, is the guest of Mrs. Olhausen, of West End.

Miss Ada Mackey left this morning to visit friends in Niles and Pittsburg.

F. A. Leonard, of the Thompson pottery, has returned from a western trip.

Miss H. M. Brookes, who has been quite ill for some time, is improving rapidly.

Mrs. John Good and children returned this morning to Toronto after a short visit in the city.

Rev. C. L. E. Cartwright and family,
of New Brighton, are the guests of W.
S. McKee, of Calcutta.

Mrs. Rebecca Laughlin and son,
Allen, will leave today for Kendall,
Pa. Mrs. Laughlin will spend the summer there.

Charles Brown, a traveler for the Sebring pottery, is home from an extensive eastern trip. He reports a good business.

HE HAS MOVED.

Gradually Acquiring Information Concern- ing Methods of Collecting a Bill.

"When we moved into the country,"
said Mr. Changoafair, "I almost wondered at the absolute confidence of the boss of the moving party. It was a long haul, two or three vans, and the bill a matter of $40 or $50, but they moved everything out of the vans into the house clean before the boss driver presented the bill. I wondered what they would do if somebody should say then that he would call at the office and settle or something of that sort. But, then, I knew I was going to pay; that it had been perfectly safe to get the stuff in and collect the bill afterward of me, and I made up my mind that they were keen men, who knew people when they met them, whom they could trust and whom not.

"Well, after some years we moved back. Some concern moved us in, but they didn't know us at the office any more than if they had never heard of us. Arrived in the city, the men with the vans—it was a different crew from that that took us out—began lugging in the things just as the men that moved us out had done in the country. Nobody said anything about pay, and I wondered again what would happen if they got the stuff all in and then the owner didn't pay. But they kept on hustling
the things in just as if they felt perfectly easy and secure about that.

"After awhile the stuff was pretty much all in—practically all but the piano—and I wondered why they hadn't brought that in before, because I had seen it loaded, and I knew it was one of the last things loaded on at the very rear end of one of the vans. So I went out to see, and there was the piano, right where I had seen it when it was put aboard, at the extreme rear end of the van, while all the stuff in front had been taken out, carried around the end of the piano and on into the house. In front of it the van was empty.

"Passing through the hall, I met the head driver, the boss of the party, and he, just casually meeting me in that way in the hall, handed over the bill for the moving, and I paid it on the spot.
Then, everything else having been moved in, the whole gang tallied on to the piano and walked it right into the house.

"Of course it may have only just happened that the piano wasn't moved in until I had paid the bill, but this didn't give me quite such a flattering opinion of myself as the other way had, but it more than confirmed my original opinion of the shrewdness and ability of the van folks. They made few mistakes and took even fewer risks."—New York Sun.

Will Not Compete.

The trustees of the Lisbon library will next Thursday meet in the office of Judge Billingsley for the purpose of selecting plans for a new building. No plans or sketches will be submitted by local architects.

THE NEW COMMITTEES

Who Will Look After the Memorial Chapel.

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

At a Largely Attended Meeting of the Grand Army Last Night It Was Decided to Lose No Time in Erecting a Handsome Building in Riverview.

A large number of veterans were present at the meeting of General Lyon Post last evening when it was decided to proceed at once with the erection of a memorial chapel in Riverview cemetery.

The action was taken through the adoption of the following resolution, every member present voting with a hearty vote of approval:

WHEREAS, In 1883, General Lyon Post decided that, as soon as sufficient funds can be raised, this post will proceed to erect a memorial chapel in Riverview cemetery, and,

WHEREAS, We now have almost $1,000 in sight; knowing the patriotism of our citizens, and believing they will cheerfully contribute whatever additional funds we may need for this very worthy cause. Therefore,

Resolved, That our building committee select plans and proceed at once with the erection of the memorial chapel.

Resolved, That the finance committee be directed to solicit and collect the necessary funds for same.

The building committee was originally made up of Col. W. H. Vodrey, Richard Thomas, A. J. L. Kerr, N. A. Frederick and Hon. A. H. McCoy. As the first named gentlemen had died their places were filled by the selection of Col. Jno. N. Taylor and Robert Hall. The first finance committee were D. J. Smith, George Hallam, H. H. Surles, A. B. Merchant and R. Thomas. All of these veterans, with the exception of Mr. Smith, have passed into the great beyond, and J. D. West, H. L. Simms, Alex McGraw and W. H. Surles were appointed to fill the vacancies. That completes the committees, and work will proceed at once. A conference will be held with the cemetery trustees. Architects are now at work on the plans.

A vote of thanks was tendered the cemetery association for their generous donation, and it was decided that all the money required to build the chapel must not alone be at hand, but there must be placed on interest a reserve fund. It will be used to inscribe the names of the old soldiers in the chapel as they one by one drop out of line.

It is proposed to have what the old soldiers style "brick certificates"—in other words, that even a child can have some part in the building of the chapel. These can be sold as low as 25 cents each, and the benefit to the fund would be great. The plans, as at present arranged, provide for a memorial of which the city and county can well be proud, and the city should be generous in its donations to the worthy cause.

Rev. O. S. Reed was last night elected chaplain of the post, and, in accepting the honor, made a brief but very good speech.

A BIG TOURNAMENT.

The Checker Players Will Have a Good Time.

The checker players of the city will hold the largest tournament they have ever attempted Monday afternoon and evening, at the home of Albert Obney. James Johnson, the champion of East Palestine, will be in the city, and will stand ready to meet any and all comers. Other out of town players will be present, and the East Liverpool checker men are expected to turn out in full. This city has some of the best checker players in the state, and would have no trouble in holding up its end in a team match.

IT SNOWED

And the Circus Could Not Give a Performance.

Old residents recalled today that last Wednesday was the twenty-second anniversary of what is known in the city as John Robinson's snowstorm. On that day the Robinson circus was booked to appear here, and pitched its tents in a vacant lot in Seventh street. Early in the morning it began to snow, and by noon was so deep that the proprietors of the show decided to give no performance in the afternoon. It had lessened perceptibly by evening, and an evening performance was given.

Many Wheelmen.

Streets were filled with wheelmen right, but there were no serious accidents. At one time in Fourth street between Washington and Broadway, 27 wheelmen and one lady were counted.

FORAKER FOR POTTERY.

The Senator Made an Argument for This Place.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—[Special.]—Senator Foraker appeared before the finance committee of the senate and made an hour's argument in favor of increasing the duties on pottery ware. The argument was made especially in the interest of the potters of East Liverpool, who feel that their interests are not adequately protected by the Dingley bill as it passed the house. Senator Aldrich, who has charge of the work of framing the senate bill, is understood to regard with disfavor the idea of increasing the duty on pottery, but Senator Allison takes the same position regarding the matter as Senator Foraker. It is, of course, impossible to foretell what decision the committee may finally reach.

THE COLLEGIANS.

They Will Delight Lovers of Music in the City.

The students of the Western University of Pennsylvania will appear at the Grand on Friday night, May 7. The college boys have been drawing crowded houses. They are accomplished musicians, vocally and instrumentally, and will delight East Liverpool residents with charming solos, choruses and quartets. It behoves those who desire choice seats to secure them at once, at Will Reed's drug store. The glee club embraces 18 performers; banjo club 11, and mandolin club 11. Prof. L. H. Harper, under whose auspices the collegians appear in this city, deserves warm praise for the high grade entertainments he has given us. The house should be packed next Friday.

NORTH SIDE ENTERTAINMENT.

Excellent Music and a Pleasant Evening.

The ladies of the North Side chapel conducted an excellent entertainment last night. The Girl's band and Elwell's orchestra gave excellent music. A recitation by Miss Carrie McKinnon and a solo by Miss Ethel Reed were enjoyed, while the club swinging of Robert Berg was appreciated. A piano duet by Miss Berg and Miss Ashbaugh followed, and Doctor Lee entertained the large audience with excellent stereopticon views. An autoharp selection by Charles Usler pleased everybody, and the program closed with a splendid piano solo by Miss Gertie Bahl. Refreshments were served. The attendance was large.

THE JAIL IS FULL.

A Long List of Prisoners in Charge of the City.

The city jail is crowded at the present time, and should many arrests be made tonight, it will be a case of hustle for the softest piece of iron on which to lay. Those who are being kept at the expense of the city are, Jack Delaney, Tim LeStrange, Mr. Stewart. Yesterday Mr. Halligan, a two-weeks boarder, was released, as was also Mr. Stewart, of Georgetown, Ike Gamble and Dan Gourley. The latter men were arrested Thursday night, and each put up his little $6.60.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

There Is Little Restriction on Bicycle Riding.

Much complaint is heard because of the manner in which wheelmen dash through the streets. Pedestrians are in danger every evening, and it is almost worth life or limb to cross a favorite street during the evening. The practice of riding six or eight in a line should be stopped by the police, while a scorching or two should be arrested as an example to others. The enforcement of the ordinance may save the city a damage suit.

CLEANED OUT A WELL.

And It Is Now Producing Two Barrels of Oil a Day.

The gas well on Alum Cliff farm which has been used to supply the house with gas has of late shown signs of oil. Yesterday it was cleaned out and cased, and five barrels of oil were secured. It will be tubed next week, and connected with a reservoir. It is expected to flow about two barrels a day of the heavy lubricating oil. The well is the exclusive property of J. R. Warner.

SOME BUSINESS

Was Done by the School Board Thursday Night.

It has just leaked out that an important meeting of the board of education was held on Thursday night. It was called for a special purpose, but what that purpose might have been is not given out today.

Plans for the new business block to be erected on Washington street by Isaac Knowles will be completed next week.

CAREY IS DOING WELL

GEO. WESTLAKE WAS RELEASED

Paterson Acknowledged That He Was a Good Man but No Place Could Be Found For Him on the Team—All Liverpool's Boys In Good Form.

Sporting Life of this week has a great deal to say of ball players from this city.

George Carey played his first game of the season this week with the Athletic club, and in two games had a total of three hits, 13 putouts and one error. The Philadelphia correspondent in commenting on his playing says he seems to have greatly strengthened the team.

The Washington correspondent says: "Mercer has pitched two great games so far; it was no fault of his they were not victories. The fault has rather been due to the mistakes made on the base lines."

The Syracuse man says: "The Rochester leaguers have a wholesome respect for our catchers. Shaw and Ryan constitute a pair hard to equal in a minor league, and they are both good batters."

George Westlake has been released by the Paterson team, and their correspondent says: "George Westlake has returned to his home at Bellaire. George is a good man and a very clever third baseman, but no room could be made for him on the team."

The Tombstones and Young Men's Christian association teams will lineup this evening as follows:

Y. M. C. A.	Position.	TOMBSTONES.
McClure	Catcher	Davis
Moris	Pitcher	Herbert
McShane	Shortstop	Cartwright
Carey	First	Simms
Kennedy	Second	McIntosh
Feistler	Third	Herbert
Bostwick	Center	McIntosh

A NEW PLACE.

Captain Agnew Will Command the Queen City.

The river has fallen but a few inches since yesterday, and the marks now show 6 feet 4 inches.

Passed up—Coal City, Nellie Walton, Pacific No. 2. Down—Belle McGowan, H. K. Bedford. Lorena and Virginia will be down this evening, and the latter boat has a lengthy passenger list.

There is a rumor among local rivermen that Captain Agnew, Hudson, will be transferred from that packet to the Queen City. He is a genial fellow, and a favorite among river tourists.

NOTHING DEFINITE

Has Been Done Relative to the Purchase of Two Plants.

Negotiations for the purchase of the works of the Furnace Fire Clay company at Salineville, by parties from this city, have not as yet been declared off. Nothing has been done in the matter for two weeks, and it remains in the same shape as before. There will probably be something definite done next week.

The proposed purchase of the New Cumberland plant is still pending, but as yet nothing definite has been done.

BOUND TO COURT.

William Kerr Must Answer to a Serious Charge.

The proceedings of a delicate nature, filed yesterday before Squire Hill by Augusta Bradley against William Kerr, came for hearing this morning, and as the complainant's condition was so serious that she could not appear, the justice and attorneys went to the Bradley residence in the West End, and held the trial. The defendant was bound over until the next term of common pleas court. He gave bond for $500 for his appearance.

A GOOD MONTH.

The month of April was a good one for the public library. During that time there were 329 visitors, 313 readers, 25 books used as reference, and 30 new members were added. Several books were given, and also a large United States map.

THEIR FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

There was a brilliant gathering at the Carroll club rooms last evening in honor of the first anniversary of the Catholic Mutual Benefit association of this city. There were 30 persons present. An elaborate spread was served.

COMPLETED NEXT WEEK.

Plans for the new business block to be erected on Washington street by Isaac Knowles will be completed next week.

They are accomplished musicians, vocally and instrumentally, and will delight East Liverpool residents with charming solos, choruses and quartets. It behooves those who desire choice seats to secure them at once, at Will Reed's drug store. The glee club embraces 18 performers; banjo club 11, and mandolin club 11. Prof. L. H. Harper, under whose auspices the collegians appear in this city, deserves warm praise for the high grade entertainments he has given us. The house should be packed next Friday.

NORTH SIDE ENTERTAINMENT.

Excellent Music and a Pleasant Evening.

The ladies of the North Side chapel conducted an excellent entertainment last night. The Girl's band and Elwell's orchestra gave excellent music. A recitation by Miss Carrie McKinnon and a solo by Miss Ethel Reed were enjoyed, while the club swinging of Robert Berg was appreciated. A piano duet by Miss Berg and Miss Ashbaugh followed, and Doctor Lee entertained the large audience with excellent stereopticon views. An autoharp selection by Charles Usler pleased everybody, and the program closed with a splendid piano solo by Miss Gertie Bahl. Refreshments were served. The attendance was large.

THE JAIL IS FULL.

A Long List of Prisoners in Charge of the City.

The city jail is crowded at the present time, and should many arrests be made tonight, it will be a case of hustle for the softest piece of iron on which to lay. Those who are being kept at the expense of the city are, Jack Delaney, Tim LeStrange, Mr. Stewart. Yesterday Mr. Halligan, a two-weeks boarder, was released, as was also Mr. Stewart, of Georgetown, Ike Gamble and Dan Gourley. The latter men were arrested Thursday night, and each put up his little $6.00.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

There Is Little Restriction on Bicycle Riding.

Much complaint is heard because of the manner in which wheelmen dash through the streets. Pedestrians are in danger every evening, and it is almost worth life or limb to cross a favorite street during the evening. The practice of riding six or eight in a line should be stopped by the police, while a scorch or two should be arrested as an example to others. The enforcement of the ordinance may save the city a damage suit.

CLEANED OUT A WELL.

And It Is Now Producing Two Barrels of Oil a Day.

The gas well on Alum Cliff farm which has been used to supply the house with gas has of late shown signs of oil. Yesterday it was cleaned out and cased, and five barrels of oil were secured. It will be tubed next week, and connected with a reservoir. It is expected to flow about two barrels a day of the heavy lubricating oil. The well is the exclusive property of J. R. Warner.

SOME BUSINESS

Was Done by the School Board Thursday Night.

It has just leaked out that an important meeting of the board of education was held on Thursday night. It was called for a special purpose, but just what that purpose might have been is not given out today.

CAREY IS DOING WELL

GEO. WESTLAKE WAS RELEASED

Paterson Acknowledged That He Was a Good Man but No Place Could Be Found For Him on the Team—All Liverpool's Boys In Good Form.

Sporting Life of this week has a great deal to say of ball players from this city.

George Carey played his first game of the season this week with the Athletic club, and in two games had a total of three hits, 13 putouts and one error. The Philadelphia correspondent in commenting on his playing says he seems to have greatly strengthened the team.

The Washington correspondent says: "Merce has pitched two great games so far; it was no fault of his they were not victories. The fault has rather been due to the mistakes made on the base lines."

The Syracuse man says: "The Rochester leaguers have a wholesome respect for our catchers. Shaw and Ryan constitute a pair hard to equal in a minor league, and they are both good batters."

George Westlake has been released by the Paterson team, and their correspondent says: "George Westlake has returned to his home at Bellaire. George is a good man and a very clever third baseman, but no room could be made for him on the team."

Y. M. C. A.	Position.	TOMBSTONES.
McClure	Catcher	Davis
Morris	Pitcher	Herbert
McShane	Shortstop	Cartwright
Carey	First	Simms
Kennedy	Second	McIntosh

A NEW PLACE.

Captain Agnew Will Command the Queen City.

The river has fallen but a few inches since yesterday, and the marks now show 6 feet 4 inches.

Passed up—Coal City, Nellie Walton, Pacific No. 2. Down—Belle McGowan, H. K. Bedford. Lorena and Virginia will be down this evening, and the latter boat has a lengthy passenger list.

There is a rumor among local rivermen that Captain Agnew, Hudson, will be transferred from that packet to the Queen City. He is a genial fellow, and a favorite among river tourists.

NOTHING DEFINITE

Has Been Done Relative to the Purchase of Two Plants.

Negotiations for the purchase of the works of the Furnace Fire Clay company at Salineville, by parties from this city, have not as yet been declared off. Nothing has been done in the matter for two weeks, and it remains in the same shape as before. There will probably be something definite done next week.

The proposed purchase of the New Cumberland plant is still pending, but as yet nothing definite has been done.

BOUND TO COURT.

William Kerr Must Answer to a Serious Charge.

The proceedings of a delicate nature, filed yesterday before Squire Hill by Augusta Bradley against William Kerr, came for hearing this morning, and as the complainant's condition was so serious that she could not appear, the justice and attorneys went to the Bradley residence in the West End, and held the trial. The defendant was bound over until the next term of common pleas court. He gave bond for $500 for his appearance.

A GOOD MONTH.

The month of April was a good one for the public library. During that time there were 329 visitors, 313 readers, and 30 new books used as reference, and 30 new members were added. Several books were given, and also a large United States map.

Their First Anniversary.

There was a brilliant gathering at the Carroll club rooms last evening in honor of the first anniversary of the Catholic Mutual Benefit association of this city. There were 30 persons present. An elaborate spread was served.

Completed Next Week

Plans for the new business block to be erected on Washington street by Isaac Knowles will be completed next week.

AMY ROBSART'S SONG.

From London town my lover came.
Robin a Dudley was his name.
I was a rose, a rose, said he,
And gathered me from off my tree.
I was a rose, most fair and red.
I am a rose whose sweets are shed.

I would my love from London town
Had never lightly ridden down.
Were there no roses there that he Must come and pluck and shatter me?
My leaves are sear that were so green.
My leaves are wet with tears of teen.

Would God that I had never met
My lover, that has heart to set Against my breast so sharp a sword.
Would God, instead of belted lord,
That I had loved some meaner clay,
Who loved me on to judgment day.

From London town my lover came
And set a country heart afame,
Then left it lone to quench or burn
Because a queen must serve his turn.
Nay, but what boots me my disdain?
Would God my love would come again.

SAW LINCOLN KILLED

WILLIAM WITHERS, LEADER OF FORD'S ORCHESTRA, TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE.

Had Written a Song For That Particular Performance—Was on the Stage and Booth Struck Him With a Dagger—He Was First to Identify the Assassin.

At the Professional Woman's league, while the members worked diligently over the novelties being made for the coming bazaar, the question came up, "Is there anybody living who saw Lincoln assassinated?"

Immediately everybody had something to say about somebody else who had a friend who was at the theater that night. The most interesting story was told of William Withers, Jr., now orchestra leader for Mr. Daly, but at the time of the assassination leader of the orchestra of Ford's theater.

Mr. Withers enjoys the distinction of having not only been at the theater the night Lincoln was assassinated, but of having been pierced by the dagger of the assassin just a few moments after Booth had fired the shot that made Lincoln a martyr. Every time he goes to Washington he is requested to tell this story, and, although many and varied are the recitals of this thrilling event, Mr. Withers' is somewhat different from the others. Here is the story as he tells it in the Washington Post:

"I was leader of the orchestra at the time, and as the president was to witness the performance of 'Our American Cousin' I thought that, as befitting the occasion, I would compose a song. So I did. It was entitled 'Honor to Our Soldiers' and dedicated to the president. This was to be sung between two of the acts by a quartet I had engaged and the entire company, who were to be attired in the American colors.

"As I was on my way to the theater I met John Wilkes Booth just in front of George Harry's saloon, which adjoined the theater. It was a sultry night, and Booth had his overcoat over his arm. 'Good evening, Billy,' he said. 'Come and have something?'

"As I was leaving to enter the theater Booth remarked, 'I'll witness the performance tonight.' I noticed nothing strange about his demeanor and subsequently saw him as I was coming out for the overture.

"Soon the president, his wife, Major Rathbone and Robert and Tad entered their box. I signaled for 'Hail to the Chief,' and the audience cheered, and the president turned smilingly and bowed. Then he seated himself, and with his accustomed modesty drew the curtains half across the box.

"After the first act J. P. Wright, the stage manager, sent me word he would be unable to have the special song sung at that time, but he would try to have it rendered between the second and third acts. A similar message was sent to me at the close of the second act, and I became somewhat exercised. I started to go upon the stage when I saw Booth on the balcony walking down the aisle in the direction of the president's box. He was seemingly attentive toward the acting, for the curtain had again gone up. I encountered a scene shifter, Spangler, whose office I afterward learned was to turn out the lights in the theater as soon as the shot was fired. He obstructed my passage.

"What do you want here?" he demanded. In reply I told him it was none of his business. Mr. Wright appearing, Spangler left his position on the stage alongside the box in which was the apparatus for illuminating the theater. I closed the lid of the box and sat upon it to talk to the manager, unconscious that I was spoiling the plan.

"Mr. Wright told me the song would be sung at the close of the performance, and Miss Keene had sent word to the president requesting him to stay to hear it.

"I was just about to return to the orchestra when the crack of a revolver startled me. All was quiet instantly. I saw a man jump from the president's box on to the stage. It was Booth. He ran directly toward the door leading into the alley. This course brought him into my path. He had a dagger in his hand, and he waved it threateningly. I didn't recognize him, and he looked like a maniac. His eyes were rolling from their sockets, and the South & disheveled. The afternoon down, he ran toward me work grading Coo.

and cried, 'Let me pass!' He slashed at me, and the knife cut through my coat, vest and underclothing. He struck again, the point of the weapon penetrating the back of my neck, and the blow brought me to the floor. I watched him make his exit into the alley and caught sight of the horse, held by 'Peanut John.'

The commotion in the audience was something terrible. Several actors, including Harry Hawke, rushed out, and a man who proved to be a detective lifted me up and said, 'I arrest you.'

"What's this all about?" I asked. 'I'm stabbed.' I was quickly told what was the matter. The thought flashed across my mind that Booth was the assassin.

I was taken to the police station, and my deposition was received in the presence of Mayor Wallach. That was, I believe, the first intimation that they had of the identity of the murderer. I was at the trial of the conspirators and the second to give testimony. My wound healed in a short time."

A BEAR STORY.

The Most Wonderful Escape of a Hunter Who Was Up a Tree.

They were spinning yarns of the chase, and this was the contribution of the congressman: "After a pretty hard campaign I went, with a hunting party, to the upper peninsula. I'm not a Leather Stocking or a Daniel Boone with a rifle, but I'm far from having to go inside and close the doors in order to hit a barn. I'd brought down a deer and bagged any amount of small game, but wanted a bear. One morning I had tramped an unusual distance from camp and suddenly came upon three half grown cubs rolling and tumbling over each other in play. I shot one, and the other two beat a clumsy retreat. Setting my gun against a tree, I reached my cub while he was still kicking.

Hearing a noise, I whirled around to find the mother coming at me, her mouth wide open and her eyes glaring. There was no chance to reach the rifle. I'm no sprinter and took the only alternative by shinnying up a tall pine tree. She stopped a minute to examine the victim of my shot and was more enraged than ever as she came climbing after me. Once in the tufted top of that pine, I did some faster thinking, gentlemen, than I ever did on any question of state. The bear was coming and losing no time. I was without a weapon of any kind. It looked as though brain had the drop.

"But a man in my predicament overlooks no chances. In my vest pocket I had a well filled match safe. In my hip pocket was a pint of brandy, minus one moderate nip. In my hunting jacket was a bunch of tow. I saturated that with brandy, and, as the bear approached, I anointed her with the remainder. Dividing the tow so as to have two shots, I lit the first half and dropped it on the bear. I didn't need the other half. There was a flash of light, as though a pan of powder had been ignited. The air was filled with the odor of burning hair. The bear let go and fell down because it was quicker. Then she left a fiery streak toward the horizon and made more noise than any ordinary thunderstorm." — Detroit Free Press.

KNEW HUMAN NATURE.

How Two Black Rascals Turned Their Knowledge to Good Account.

Near one of the gates at the Union station as the long train from Chicago rolled in stood an old colored man. He was bent under time's burden, and it was easy to imagine that he was one of those relics of the south, one of those picturesque characters of old plantation life, that now live only in the memory.

The great engine was panting after its long run, and amid the bustle and confusion of the station the old man seemed bewildered. Then as the passengers came through the gate they saw a little act of kindness that touched a tender chord of sympathy in more than one heart.

Another colored man, who looked as if he might be a porter, stepped up and slipped a quarter in the old man's hand. Then he quickly made his way off again, looking half ashamed at his action.

The old man stood looking at the quarter, with a smile on his wrinkled old face, and the next man placed another silver piece in his hand.

The other passengers followed suit, and the old man had to come off to hold the shower of coin.

Just then the policeman on duty at the station saw the old fellow and started toward him, but with more agility than one would have given him credit for the old man ran in among the crowd and was lost.

Five minutes later two men were sitting in a saloon in Seventeenth street. They were counting over a pile of small coins.

"Foh seventy-five, he! he! Golly, gran'dad, didn't I tell yer it'd fetch 'em? 'Pears lak all yer had ter do waz ter kinder mek der white folks' shamed lak, and dey jes' scrambel ovah demselves ter gev a pore ole man money. He he! No moah work fer us, not if dey comes lak dat." — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Conductors of orchestras and that the flute is far more often played out of tune than the violin, the reason being that many of its natural notes are not strictly in tune with the rest of the band.

POWER FROM OYSTER SOUP.

How an Ingenious Locomotive Engineer Saved His Train and Passengers.

He was more than an ordinarily accomplished liar for an amateur, and they all knew it when they asked him for a story.

"I can tell you how I once ran an engine and saved a trainload of people with an oyster stew if you want to know, but I don't think of anything more exciting than that," he said apologetically.

"That's good enough," they all declared. "Give us that."

"All right, then, here goes," he said as he settled back in his chair. "I was once engineer on a road that ran for a long distance through the forests of northern Wisconsin, and we were frequently bothered by forest fires. They were particularly bad at the time I speak of. One day I had run through one big blaze, only to find that there was a bigger one ahead. The worst of it was we were low on water, and there was no chance to fill the tank without dashing through the fire ahead of us. I sent the fireman out to see if we had enough to make the run, but he came back and told me the boiler was almost dry.

"I was puzzled for awhile. It was death to all of us I knew to stay there, but how to get out was the question. Suddenly a happy thought struck me. There was a milk can just behind the first baggage, and I made for it. 'How much milk have you got?' I says to the fellow in charge. 'About 40 cans, I guess,' he answered. 'Why do you ask?' 'Never mind,' says I. 'What's that in those cans in the corner?' 'Oysters,' he answered. 'But why do you want to know?' 'Never you mind,' I told him, and then I ordered the other train hands who had come up to see why we had stopped to tote that milk and those oysters up to the engine.

"They did it in spite of the kicking of the milkman, and when they had brought them up I ordered them all chucked into the tank. The conductor came up, too, and declared it was a funny notion to be making oyster stew in an engine boiler, when we were in danger of being burned alive, but I soon convinced him that it was necessary if we did not want to stay there and roast.

"Well, we finally dumped in all the milk and all the oysters and started ahead. You ought to have smelled the steam that came back into that engine cab. It would have made you think of an old time church festival. Whew! How that soup did smell! It made the engine jump, though, and that was all we wanted. We got up a great head of steam in no time, and the way we plunged through that next fire belt was a caution. As we pulled up at the station just beyond I opened up and began to whistle. A great cloud of oyster soup or vapor shot into the sky, of course, and didn't come down till we were far out of sight. Then it settled like a thick fog—oysters, soup and all. Everybody noticed it, of course, and there was a country scientist in the town who was sure it was the greatest phenomenon of the age. It was raining oyster soup up there he was sure, and the next issue of the weekly papers were full of it—not the soup, but the news of it. After the residents up that way had all swallowed it—not the soup, but the story—we told them about it, and that was the silliest looking scientist I ever saw." — Chicago Times-Herald.

A Scotch Bear Brummel.

A Scotch weekly paper named Saint Mungo tells of the costume of some of the gentry who may be seen walking upon the fashionable streets of Edinburgh. One citizen is described as follows: "Mr. Theodore Napier is a well known figure in Edinburgh. He walks along Princes street in a kilt of royal Stewart or Lennox tartan and usually has a red coat with a dark vest, over the front of which he wears an embroidered belt of scarlet silk instead of plain leather. He is gorgeous with dirks, skene dhuis, sporrans and other ornaments, and lets his hair fall to his shoulders under a bonnet that is a cross between Glengary and Balmoral and trimmed with feathers."

The burgher who strides along Princes street, bearing these accoutrements, is not a crank. He is a level headed, well composed, thoughtful and wealthy gentleman, standing high in Edinburgh society. Suppose that a man thus apparelled and caparisoned were to walk along our streets! What a time there would be!

Within the past few years, or since the introduction of bicycling, golfing and other funny sports, some of the men and women in American cities wear costumes the like of which were not to be seen in the old times. But for all that we doubt whether Mr. Theodore Napier of Edinburgh would greatly enjoy life in this country if he appeared in the public street in the fixtures described by Saint Mungo.

A Pretty Sure Test.

"I wish I knew whether my Robert really loves me or not."

"You can easily find out. All you have to do is to make an appointment with some other young fellow, only take care that Robert is informed of what you have done. Then if he really loves you he will certainly kill you, but if he doesn't you may rest assured that he is only flirting with you." — London Sun.

One morning I had tramped an unusual distance from camp and suddenly came upon three half grown cubs rolling and tumbling over each other in play. I shot one, and the other two beat a clumsy retreat. Setting my gun against a tree, I reached my cub while he was still kicking.

Hearing a noise, I whirled around to find the mother coming at me, her mouth wide open and her eyes glaring. There was no chance to reach the rifle. I'm no sprinter and took the only alternative by shinnying up a tall pine tree. She stopped a minute to examine the victim of my shot and was more enraged than ever as she came climbing after me. Once in the tufted top of that pine, I did some faster thinking, gentlemen, than I ever did on any question of state. The bear was coming and losing no time. I was without a weapon of any kind. It looked as though bruin had the drop.

"But a man in my predicament overlooks no chances. In my vest pocket I had a well filled match safe. In my hip pocket was a pint of brandy, minus one moderate nip. In my hunting jacket was a bunch of tow. I saturated that with brandy, and, as the bear approached, I anointed her with the remainder. Dividing the tow so as to have two shots, I lit the first half and dropped it on the bear. I didn't need the other half. There was a flash of light, as though a pan of powder had been ignited. The air was filled with the odor of burning hair. The bear let go and fell down because it was quicker. Then she left a fiery streak toward the horizon and made more noise than any ordinary thunderstorm." —Detroit Free Press.

KNEW HUMAN NATURE.

How Two Black Rascals Turned Their Knowledge to Good Account.

Near one of the gates at the Union station as the long train from Chicago rolled in stood an old colored man. He was bent under time's burden, and it was easy to imagine that he was one of those relics of the south, one of those picturesque characters of old plantation life, that now live only in the memory.

The great engine was panting after its long run, and amid the bustle and confusion of the station the old man seemed bewildered. Then as the passengers came through the gate they saw a little act of kindness that touched a tender chord of sympathy in more than one heart.

Another colored man, who looked as if he might be a porter, stepped up and slipped a quarter in the old man's hand. Then he quickly made his way off again, looking half ashamed at his action.

The old man stood looking at the quarter, with a smile on his wrinkled old face, and the next man placed another silver piece in his hand. The other passengers followed suit, and the old hat had to come off to hold the shower of coin.

Just then the policeman on duty at the station saw the old fellow and started toward him, but with more agility than one would have given him credit for the old man ran in among the crowd and was lost.

"Fosh seventy-five, he, he! Golly, gran'dad, didn't I tell yer it'd fetch 'em? 'Pears lak all yer had ter do wuz ter kin der white folks' shamed lak, and dey jes' scaramel ovah demselfs ter gev a pore ole man money. He he! No moah work fer us, not if dey comes lak dat." —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Conductors of orchestras and that the date is far more often played out of tune than the violin, the reason being that many of its natural notes are not strictly in tune with the rest of the band.

POWER FROM OYSTER SOUP.

How an Ingenious Locomotive Engineer Saved His Train and Passengers.

He was more than an ordinarily accomplished liar for an amateur, and they all knew it when they asked him for a story.

"I can tell you how I once ran an engine and saved a trainload of people with an oyster stew if you want to know, but I don't think of anything more exciting than that," he said apologetically.

"That's good enough," they all declared. "Give us that."

"All right, then, here goes," he said as he settled back in his chair. "I was once engineer on a road that ran for a long distance through the forests of northern Wisconsin, and we were frequently bothered by forest fires. They were particularly bad at the time I speak of. One day I had run through one big blaze, only to find that there was a bigger one ahead. The worst of it was we were low on water, and there was no chance to fill the tank without dashing through the fire ahead of us. I sent the fireman out to see if we had enough to make the run, but he came back and told me the boiler was almost dry.

"I was puzzled for awhile. It was death to all of us I knew to stay there, but how to get out was the question. Suddenly a happy thought struck me. There was a milk car just behind the first baggage, and I made for it. 'How much milk have you got?' I says to the fellow in charge. 'About 40 cans, I guess,' he answered. 'Why do you ask?' 'Never mind,' says I. 'What's that in those cans in the corner?' 'Oysters,' he answered. 'But why do you want to know?' 'Never you mind,' I told him, and then I ordered the other train hands who had come up to see why we had stopped to tote that milk and those oysters up to the engine.

"They did it in spite of the kicking of the milkman, and when they had brought them up I ordered them all chucked into the tank. The conductor came up, too, and declared it was a funny notion to be making oyster stew in an engine boiler, when we were in danger of being burned alive, but I soon convinced him that it was necessary if we did not want to stay there and roast.

"Well, we finally dumped in all the milk and all the oysters and started ahead. You ought to have smelled the steam that came back into that engine cab. It would have made you think of an old time church festival. Whew! How that soup did smell! It made the engine jump, though, and that was all we wanted. We got up a great head of steam in no time, and the way we plunged through that next fire belt was a caution. As we pulled up at the station just beyond I opened up and began to whistle. A great cloud of oyster soup or vapor shot into the sky, of course, and didn't come down till we were far out of sight. Then it settled like a thick fog—oysters, soup and all. Everybody noticed it, of course, and there was a country scientist in the town who was sure it was the greatest phenomenon of the age. It was raining oyster soup up there he was sure, and the next issue of the weekly papers were full of it—not the soup, but the news of it. After the residents up that way had all swallowed it—not the soup, but the story—we told them about it, and that was the silliest looking scientist I ever saw." —Chicago Times-Herald.

A Scotch Bear Brummel.

A Scotch weekly paper named Saint Mungo tells of the costume of some of the gentry who may be seen walking upon the fashionable streets of Edinburgh. One citizen is described as follows: "Mr. Theodore Napier is a well known figure in Edinburgh. He walks along Princes street in a kilt of royal Stewart or Lennox tartan and usually has a red coat with a dark vest, over the front of which he wears an embroidered belt of scarlet silk instead of plain leather. He is gorgeous with dirks, skene dhuis, sporrans and other ornaments, and he lets his hair fall to his shoulders under a bonnet that is a cross between Glengary and Balmoral and trimmed with feathers."

The burgher who strides along Princes street, bearing these accoutrements, is not a crank. He is a level headed, well composed, thoughtful and wealthy gentleman, standing high in Edinburgh society. Suppose that a man thus apparelled and caparisoned were to walk along our streets! What a time there would be! Within the past few years, or since the introduction of bicycling, golfing and other funny sports, some of the men and women in American cities wear costumes the like of which were not to be seen in the old times. But for all that we doubt whether Mr. Theodore Napier of Edinburgh would greatly enjoy life in this country if he appeared in the public street in the fixtures described by Saint Mungo.

A Pretty Sure Test.

"I wish I knew whether my Robert really loves me or not."

"You can easily find out. All you have to do is to make an appointment with some other young fellow, only take care that Robert is informed of what you have done. Then if he really loves you he will certainly kill you, but if he doesn't you may rest assured that he is only flirting with you." —London Sun.

T FARMS IN THE
IN INDIANA.

Popular Errors About Aquatics—The Raiser Has
In Fighting Off the Pest With Many Tales.

so extremely common
few people ever stop to they come from or how
used. Comparatively little is known about the little cold
blooded vertebrates that swim about in the aquariums in so many homes. The pets require a careful and systematic raising that is scarcely appreciated by those who expect to get them for small
prices of dealers in the city.

The largest goldfish farm in the world,
if it may be called such, is located in Shelby county, Ind., about 80 miles
from Indianapolis. Here the original goldfish men of the country have their
propagating institution.

There are two farms, several miles
apart, which are devoted to the different branches of the industry. In the north part of the county is one farm of eight or ten acres. The other is a few miles farther south and is about half
again as large as the first one.

Today there are in the various ponds
of Spring Lake fishery over 200,000 fish,
from which specimens are constantly
being sent to every state and territory
of the Union. It is even said that some of the finest fish in the royal aquariums
of Europe were raised by Mr. Shoup
and his partner at this farm.

On each of the farms spoken of are a large number of small ponds, some of
them not much larger than ten feet
square. These ponds are all connected
with each other by little channels, so that the water and fish can be let from
one to the other without the least difficulty. The breeding ponds, which are, of course, the most important, are protected

from the wind and cold by high embankments around the edges. This is all the protection that is necessary for the fish, even in the winter time, so it is seen that, although the fish are undoubtedly delicate, they are much more hardy than is generally supposed.

Several times a year the fish are sorted
in the different ponds and classified so
that the largest and finest ones will be together, and those which will not bring
such good prices will be by themselves.
Many people suppose that when the
goldfish is first hatched from the egg it
has the peculiar pretty markings on its scales which make it so beautiful and
valuable.

This is not the case. In its youth in reality the fish is just the same as any ordinary and everyday fish, and looks
like it for all the world. Even an expert
could scarcely tell it from the little
minnows which are found in any stream.
They are of a whitish, silvery color,
and have not the least evidence of the
beautiful hues which they will later assume.

Sometimes, however, the goldfish
grower is sadly disappointed in finding
that his fish fail to acquire the golden
tint for which he has so long been looking
in vain. There have been many instances
time and again in which the fish
never did change to the reddish color,
but grew to be several years old, retaining
their white, silvery, youthful complexion.
Ordinarily, however, the fish
develop the golden shade in less than a year.

First, they begin getting dark, sometimes
becoming almost black. From the dark complexion they begin turning to
the reddish shade, and finally come out
in all their glory, full fledged goldfish.

The food has not, as many people
suppose, the least thing to do with coloring the fish. All the fish are fed exactly the same thing, toasted bread two or
three times a week, and nothing else
is given them for their subsistence. The sun seems to be the necessary agent and
the only one to complete the scheme of
nature, and even this sometimes does
not work successfully.

The greatest difficulty with which the
goldfish raiser has to contend is the pest world. Snakes, cats, coons, frogs and insects innumerable are all fell destroyers of the goldfish, and the crawfish is by no means a second in the destruction which he can work when he gets in the neighborhood of the finny tribe. Some one must be kept constantly on watch
at the season of the year when these
insects and little animals abound to see
that they do not get into the water of
the pond where the fish are.

The sting of some insects will kill a
fish in almost every instance. Snake feeders and some other well known insects fly close to the surface of the water in the summer time and with the greatest ease touch the tiny little fish
swimming near the surface of the pool.
An egg is laid on the fish or a stinger
inserted, and either will invariably prove fatal.

The freaks and unusual developments
in the fish are the varieties which will
always bring the best prices in the market.
Odd and rare colors and spots upon
the scales are the marks which are preferred by fanciers. Unusual shapes in the fishes are equally popular with oddities
in colors and will cause a fish to bring as good a price as if it had orange
or purple scales.

In physical developments the great varieties are in respect to the tail. One

A TAME LE

Which Walked With Its Streets of Be

Of all the cat tribe, 1
easiest to tame and to captured while young. When they are old, their savage habits have become
fixed, and it is almost impossible then
to tame them.

Thirty years ago a curious and well
known sight on the streets of Berlin
was Von der Madlern with his tame leopard. Baron von der Madlern, when a young man, was for several years
German consul in Egypt. While there
an Arab friend presented him with a young leopard. It was only a few days
old, its eyes not open yet. The young
baron determined to make a pet of the
leopard and train and treat it like a dog.

The leopard was never confined in a cage, but was always allowed full liberty and was well fed and petted. He slept on a comfortable rug in his master's room, and if the night was cold
crept upon his master's bed and shared
it with him. Through the day, indoors
and out, he followed Von der Madlern
about like a faithful dog and displayed
a dog's affection for his master.

He grew by and by into a handsome
creature, one of the largest of his species
and finely marked. When he had been in Von der Madlern's possession
about two years, the baron was recalled to Berlin and took the animal back with him. In Berlin the leopard occupied the same place in his master's house
that he had done before and followed the baron about the streets in the same way.

At first the sight of the creature
stalking solemnly along beside the man
created quite a sensation in the city,
and people crowded to see them pass.
But it grew to be an everyday matter,
which only attracted occasional notice
from strangers or children.

The animal lived to be about 15 years
old and died much lamented by all who knew it. His story seems to prove that the wildness of such animals is only slightly inherited, and that their better nature may usually be brought out
by proper treatment.—Our Animal Friends.

ARBITRATION AND WAR.

Brief but Not Uninteresting Discourse by
the Old Soldier.

"You know I can't get over the fact,"
said the old soldier, "that there's a heap more heroes in the world than
there was, all due to the civil war. And
you can't tell where you're going to meet 'em. The man you buy a lead pencil in the stationery store may have served, and so may the man you buy
your clothes of in the clothing store.
Just as likely as not the man that
brings your milk in the morning, coming along early through the quiet streets,
may have been at Gettysburg, and the
man that twists the grip wheel of the cable car you ride down Broadway in
may have marched over narrow corduroy roads, through lofty forests with a gun over his shoulder and a knapsack
on his back.

"You see, you can't tell. The man in
the pulpit may have been in it, and so
may the man that sweeps the streets.
You can't tell about it. The fellers
don't stand round and holler about it,
but they're heroes just the same—the
salt of the earth on this continent—and
the world is better for 'em, a heap.
They are self reliant and self respecting
citizens, who help to keep the country
sweet. And their children are proud of them. How proud! And they grow up all the stronger and better citizens for
this inheritance.

"Still, I believe in arbitration—on principle—and I feel bound to say that I believe in it in practice too. War is a frightful waste of human life and of material. I can't now and I never
could see the sense of destroying things,
and I think the most tremendously foolish
thing going is taxing people out of
house and home to keep up great armies
standing that are finally to be destroyed."

"And still I can't keep thinking that
a war like ours, about a real principle,
is not without its compensations. It
sort of clears the atmosphere, distributes
backbone around among survivors
and tends to the perpetuation and
enlargement of freedom and the benefit
of the human race."—New York Sun.

What They Said Wouldn't Read Well.

"Jim Scorch has just returned from a bicycle ride around the world. He is going to write a book about it."

"What is he going to call it?"

"People I have run up against."— Odds and Ends.

compositions upon the piano
if they do not acquire, a luxuriant
growth of hair. On the other hand,
wind instruments, and especially the
cornet and trombone, are fatal to hairsute adornment. The violoncello and the harp keep the hair in pretty well, but
the flute cannot be depended upon to preserve a strong growth after the fifth
year of age.

A number of pianists, including Pa-
derewski, are cited in confirmation of the pronounced influence of piano music. It has been admitted for some time that
music has a certain therapeutic worth,
and it will be recalled that Dr. Ferrand
presented a report to the French academy on the physiological influence of music, pointing out in what ways it
could be employed with therapeutic
aims. Subsequently Dr. Betzchinsky reported an instance of night terrors in a
child of 3 years, who was cured by having
played to it each night music of a
calming nature written in a minor key.

A test was made after a few nights by omitting the music, and that night alone
the child had an attack.

It has not as yet been determined just
what key is most favorable to the prevention of an early bald state. Probably a reasonable way of settling the
disputed point would be to make a few
experiments on dogs, thus proving a
tolerance for different strains and avoiding the horripilation to which some patients of refined tastes might be subjected. Wind instruments are always dangerous if the hair has not a good
hold, while stiff haired people can stand anything. Possibly a good rule
for any musician would be as soon as
he finds his hair falling that he should cease playing for others.—Medical Record.

A Bare Faced Fad.

The fashion of the smooth face continues to increase in popularity, and
mustaches are daily sacrificed to a fad
which is not so well adapted to every
man as a great many men evidently
think. The style came from England.
It became so much the proper thing in England for men to appear without hair
on their faces that it was finally found
necessary to forbid the practice in the
army, as the loss of whiskers was spreading so rapidly that there promised to be a beardless army in a short while. Unbecoming styles of dress are unquestionably accepted when they are the mode. But it was usually thought that the selection of a mustache or a smooth face was founded on a deeper
consideration of what made a man look well or the reverse. But that discrimination has been swept away now by the enthusiasm with which the unshaved
lip has been acclaimed as the right
style.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Mark Twain and Lincoln.

Perhaps it were as well, says Charles Miner Thompson in The Atlantic, to attribute the popularity of Abraham Lincoln to his jokes as to the vogue of
Mark Twain to his extravagant folly.
In the conventional sense, Mark Twain
is no more a literary artist than, in the
conventional sense, Lincoln was a gentleman. But, in spite of lack of polish,
Lincoln was great. May not Mark
Twain, the writer, in spite of his crude literary manners, be great also? The mere possibility ought to be enough in itself to secure him sympathetic and
serious consideration.

Provoking.

Friend—Hello, Grumbleton! What's
the matter, old man?

Grumbleton—Matter enough! I was
in that collision on the railway the other day, and I'm blow'd if I wasn't the only one in the compartment who wasn't injured, and I've insured in the Accidental for the last three years too. It's enough to provoke a saint."—Pick Me

Cooked Foods.

Cooked foods should be eaten moderately warm, not hot. The high temperature injures the mucous lining of the whole digestive apparatus, and by increasing the flow of perspiration renders
the skin more susceptible to chills and colds.

The habit of eating hot food also increases a desire for liquids, and thus
one bad habit leads to another.

leaves; in Bohemia, of rosemary; in German Switzerland, of a crown of

LOCAL EVIDENCE.

A Report from the D. E. McNicholl
Pottery.

If this report were published in East
Liverpool, about a resident of Liverpool, England, we would expect our readers to harbor some suspicion about it, at least we are safe in saying that any public utterance made in East Liverpool, Ohio,
by a resident of Liverpool, England, would not be half so interesting as
a sentence or two from Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, potters at the D. E. McNicholl Pottery and a resident of East Liverpool for the past forty-five years. Mr. Thompson, in 61, joined Co.
L. of 62nd Penn. Infantry at Pittsburg
and served his country well for three years, enduring all the hardships and
trials of camp life. When such a man
as he comes out flat footed and endorses
the claims of an article in which he has
no interest there must be something more than ordinary merit behind it. It requires no reasoning or argument to prove this. The facts are plain and to the point. He says: "During my campaign experience between the years of 61
and 64 I contracted a weakness of the

so extremely common
few people ever stop to
they come from or how
used. Comparatively little is known about the little cold
looded vertebrates that swim about in the aquariums in so many homes. The
pets require a careful and systematic
raising that is scarcely appreciated by
those who expect to get them for small
prices of dealers in the city.

The largest goldfish farm in the world,
if it may be called such, is located in Shelby county, Ind., about 80 miles
from Indianapolis. Here the original
goldfish men of the country have their
propagating institution.

There are two farms, several miles
apart, which are devoted to the different branches of the industry. In the north part of the county is one farm of eight or ten acres. The other is a few miles farther south and is about half
again as large as the first one.

Today there are in the various ponds
of Spring Lake fishery over 200,000 fish,
from which specimens are constantly
being sent to every state and territory
of the Union. It is even said that some
of the finest fish in the royal aquariums
of Europe were raised by Mr. Shoup
and his partner at this farm.

On each of the farms spoken of are a
large number of small ponds, some of
them not much larger than ten feet
square. These ponds are all connected
with each other by little channels, so
that the water and fish can be let from
one to the other without the least difficulty.

The breeding ponds, which are, of course, the most important, are protected
from the wind and cold by high embankments
around the edges. This is all the protection that is necessary for the fish, even in the winter time, so it is seen that, although the fish are undoubtedly delicate, they are much more
hardy than is generally supposed.

Several times a year the fish are sorted
in the different ponds and classified so
that the largest and finest ones will be
such good prices will be by themselves.
Many people suppose that when the
goldfish is first hatched from the egg it
has the peculiar pretty markings on its
scales which make it so beautiful and
valuable.

This is not the case. In its youth in reality the fish is just the same as any
ordinary and everyday fish, and looks
like it for all the world. Even an expert
could scarcely tell it from the little
minnows which are found in any stream.
They are of a whitish, silvery color,
and have not the least evidence of the
beautiful hues which they will later assume.

Sometimes, however, the goldfish
grower is sadly disappointed in finding
that his fish fail to acquire the golden
tint for which he has so long been looking
in vain. There have been many instances
time and again in which the fish
never did change to the reddish color,
but grew to be several years old, retaining
their white, silvery, youthful complexion.
Ordinarily, however, the fish develop
the golden shade in less than a year.

First, they begin getting dark, sometimes
becoming almost black. From the
dark complexion they begin turning to
the reddish shade, and finally come out
in all their glory, full fledged goldfish.

The food has not, as many people
suppose, the least thing to do with coloring
the fish. All the fish are fed exactly the same thing, toasted bread two or
three times a week, and nothing else
is given them for their subsistence. The
sun seems to be the necessary agent and
the only one to complete the scheme of
not work successfully.

The greatest difficulty with which the
goldfish raiser has to contend is the pest
world. Snakes, cats, coons, frogs and insects innumerable are all fell destroyers
of the goldfish, and the crawfish is by no means a second in the destruction which he can work when he gets in the neighborhood of the finny tribe. Some
one must be kept constantly on watch
at the season of the year when these
insects and little animals abound to see
that they do not get into the water of
the pond where the fish are.

The sting of some insects will kill a
fish in almost every instance. Snake
feeders and some other well known insects fly close to the surface of the water in the summer time and with the greatest ease touch the tiny little fish
swimming near the surface of the pool.
An egg is laid on the fish or a stinger
inserted, and either will invariably
prove fatal.

The freaks and unusual developments
in the fish are the varieties which will
always bring the best prices in the market.
Odd and rare colors and spots upon
the scales are the marks which are preferred by fanciers. Unusual shapes in
the fishes are equally popular with oddities
in colors and will cause a fish to
bring as good a price as if it had orange
or purple scales.

A TAME LE

Which Walked With Its Streets of Be

Of all the cat tribe, 1
easiest to tame and to
captured while young. When they are
old, their savage habits have become
fixed, and it is almost impossible then
to tame them.

Thirty years ago a curious and well
known sight on the streets of Berlin
was Von der Madliern with his tame leopard. Baron von der Madliern, when
a young man, was for several years
German consul in Egypt. While there
an Arab friend presented him with a young leopard. It was only a few days
old, its eyes not open yet. The young
baron determined to make a pet of the
leopard and train and treat it like a dog.

The leopard was never confined in a cage, but was always allowed full liberty and was well fed and petted. He slept on a comfortable rug in his master's room, and if the night was cold
crept upon his master's bed and shared
it with him. Through the day, indoors
and out, he followed Von der Madliern
about like a faithful dog and displayed
a dog's affection for his master.

He grew by and by into a handsome
creature, one of the largest of his species
and finely marked. When he had been in Von der Madliern's possession
about two years, the baron was recalled
to Berlin and took the animal back with him. In Berlin the leopard occupied the same place in his master's house
that he had done before and followed the baron about the streets in the same way.

At first the sight of the creature
stalking solemnly along beside the man
created quite a sensation in the city,
and people crowded to see them pass.
But it grew to be an everyday matter,
which only attracted occasional notice
from strangers or children.

The animal lived to be about 15 years
old and died much lamented by all who knew it. His story seems to prove that the wildness of such animals is only slightly inherited, and that their better nature may usually be brought out
by proper treatment.—Our Animal

ARBITRATION AND WAR.

the Old Soldier.

"You know I can't get over the fact,"
said the old soldier, "that there's a
heap more heroes in the world than
there was, all due to the civil war. And
you can't tell where you're going to meet 'em. The man you buy a lead pencil in the stationery store may have
served, and so may the man you buy
your clothes of in the clothing store.
Just as likely as not the man that
brings your milk in the morning, coming along early through the quiet streets,
may have been at Gettysburg, and the
man that twists the grip wheel of the
cable car you ride down Broadway in
may have marched over narrow corduroy roads, through lofty forests with a gun over his shoulder and a knapsack
on his back.

"You see, you can't tell. The man in
the pulpit may have been in it, and so
may the man that sweeps the streets.
You can't tell about it. The fellers
don't stand round and holler about it,
but they're heroes just the same—the
salt of the earth on this continent—and
the world is better for 'em, a heap.
They are self reliant and self respecting
citizens, who help to keep the country
sweet. And their children are proud of them. How proud! And they grow up
all the stronger and better citizens for
this inheritance.

"Still, I believe in arbitration—on
principle—and I feel bound to say that I believe in it in practice too. War is a frightful waste of human life and of
material. I can't now and I never
could see the sense of destroying things,
and I think the most tremendously foolish
thing going is taxing people out of
house and home to keep up great armies
standing that are finally to be destroyed.

"And still I can't keep thinking that
a war like ours, about a real principle,
is not without its compensations. It
sort of clears the atmosphere, distributes
backbone around among survivors
and tends to the perpetuation and
enlargement of freedom and the benefit
of the human race."—New York Sun.

What They Said Wouldn't Read Well.

"Jim Scorch has just returned from
a bicycle ride around the world. He is going to write a book about it."

"What is he going to call it?"

Odds and Ends.

The little town of Nazareth, in Palestine,
has no fewer than three hospitals,
7 convents and 12 schools under European supervision.

compositions upon the piano
if they do not acquire, a luxuriant
growth of hair. On the other hand,
wind instruments, and especially the
cornet and trombone, are fatal to hirsute adornment. The violoncello and
the harp keep the hair in pretty well, but
the flute cannot be depended upon to preserve a strong growth after the fiftieth
year of age.

A number of pianists, including Pa-
derewski, are cited in confirmation of the
pronounced influence of piano music. It
has been admitted for some time that
music has a certain therapeutic worth,
and it will be recalled that Dr. Ferrand
presented a report to the French academy on the physiological influence of
music, pointing out in what ways it
could be employed with therapeutic
aims. Subsequently Dr. Betzchinsky reported an instance of night terrors in a
child of 3 years, who was cured by having
played to it each night music of a
calming nature written in a minor key.
A test was made after a few nights by omitting the music, and that night
alone the child had an attack.

It has not as yet been determined just
what key is most favorable to the prevention of an early bald state. Probably a reasonable way of settling the
disputed point would be to make a few
experiments on dogs, thus proving a
tolerance for different strains and avoiding the horripilation to which some patients of refined tastes might be subjected. Wind instruments are always
dangerous if the hair has not a good
hold, while stiff haired people can
stand anything. Possibly a good rule
for any musician would be as soon as
he finds his hair falling that he should cease playing for others.—Medical Record.

A Bare Faced Fad.

The fashion of the smooth face continues to increase in popularity, and
mustaches are daily sacrificed to a fad
which is not so well adapted to every
man as a great many men evidently
think. The style came from England.
It became so much the proper thing in England for men to appear without hair
on their faces that it was finally found
necessary to forbid the practice in the
army, as the loss of whiskers was spreading so rapidly that they promised to be a beardless army in a short
while. Unbecoming styles of dress are unquestionably accepted when they are the mode. But it was usually thought that the selection of a mustache or a
smooth face was founded on a deeper
consideration of what made a man look
well or the reverse. But that discrimination has been swept away now by the
enthusiasm with which the unshaved

Mark Twain and Lincoln.

Perhaps it were as well, says Charles
Miner Thompson in The Atlantic, to
attribute the popularity of Abraham Lincoln to his jokes as the vogue of
Mark Twain to his extravagant folly.

In the conventional sense, Mark Twain
is no more a literary artist than, in the
conventional sense, Lincoln was a gentleman. But, in spite of lack of polish,
Lincoln was great. May not Mark
Twain, the writer, in spite of his crude
literary manners, be great also? The
mere possibility ought to be enough in
itself to secure him sympathetic and
serious consideration.

Provoking.

Friend—Hello, Grumbleton! What's
the matter, old man?

Grumbleton—Matter enough! I was
in that collision on the railway the other day, and I'm blowed if I wasn't the only one in the compartment who wasn't
injured, and I've insured in the Accidental for the last three years too. It's enough to provoke a saint."—Pick Me Up.

Cooked Foods.

Cooked foods should be eaten moderately
warm, not hot. The high temperature injures the mucous lining of the whole digestive apparatus, and by increasing the flow of perspiration renders
the skin more susceptible to chills and
colds.

The habit of eating hot food also increases a desire for liquids, and thus
one bad habit leads to another.

The bridal wreath is usually formed in Germany of myrtle branches; in France and England, of orange blossoms;
in Italy and French Switzerland, of white roses; in Spain, of red roses and pinks; in the islands of Greece, of vine
leaves; in Bohemia, of rosemary; in German Switzerland, of a crown of artificial flowers.

I know of a lady who took one bottle of

A Report from the D. E. McNicholl Pottery.

If this report were published in East
Liverpool, about a resident of Liverpool,
England, we would expect our readers to harbor some suspicion about it, at least we are safe in saying that the public utterance made in East Liverpool, Ohio, by a resident of Liverpool, England, would not be half so interesting as
a sentence or two from Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicholl Pottery and a resident of East Liverpool for the past forty-five years. Mr. Thompson, in 61, joined Co.
L. of 62nd Penn. Infantry at Pittsburg
and served his country well for three
years, enduring all the hardships and
trials of camp life. When such a man
as he comes out flat footed and endorses
the claims of an article in which he has
no interest there must be something
more than ordinary merit behind it. It requires no reasoning or argument to prove this. The facts are plain and to the point. He says: "During my campaign experience between the years of 61
and 64 I contracted a weakness of the kidneys which has bothered me more or less ever since, and recently very severely. I had a constant aching pain

A. W. SCOTT, Architect.

To my patrons, and those contemplating building,

Ministers Will Tomorrow Discuss an Interesting Subject—Large Attendance Promised.

A few weeks ago Trades council appointed a committee to call upon the ministers of the city, and ask them to set aside the first Sunday in May as a time when they would deliver sermons on labor. The gentlemen gladly promised to do as they were requested, and tomorrow the day will be generally observed. A number of union organizations will attend services, and special music has been prepared at some churches. Trades council asks that every union man in the city attend some church tomorrow. The announcements of the pastors follow:

At Y. M. C. A. hall, Prof. O. S. Reed, of the Christian church, will in the morning preach on "Expository of the Second Chapter of Hebrews;" evening, "Workingmen's Friends and Foes." Special music at every service. The Sunday school instrumental quartet, of Wellsville, will aid in the evening services at 8 o'clock, Christian Endeavor 7 p. m.

First Presbyterian church—Preaching by the pastor, Rev. John Lloyd Lee. At 11 a. m., "A noted workman, with lessons from his life," a sermon in honor of the cause of labor. There will be a delegation from the Specialty glass works to worship with us at the morning service. We welcome all to both the morning and evening service. At 7:30 p. m., the first sermon of a short series on requisites to the Christian life. Subject, "A supposed substitute for Christianity; something all are seeking, and what it will not buy." Sabbath school at 9:30 a. m. Christian Endeavor at 6:15 p. m. Strangers and visitors welcomed to all services.

First U. P. church, Rev. J. C. Taggart, pastor—At 11 a. m., "The Son Greater Than the Angels;" 7:30, sermon on labor, "The Reciprocal Duties of Employers and Employed." Sabbath school in the church at 9:45 a. m., in the chapel at 3 p. m. Young People's meeting at 6:30 p. m.

Rev. J. C. Taggart will preach in Chester at 3 p. m.

Regular Sunday service will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Young Men's Christian association rooms. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. O. S. Reed.

African M. E. church, Rev. B. M. Carson, pastor—Preaching at 10:30, "The relation of labor to the nation, and the relation of the nation to the church;" Sunday school, 2:30 p. m., Endeavor 6:30 p. m.; preaching 7:30 p. m.

Evangelical Lutheran church, J. G. Reinartz, pastor—Divine services in the German language at 10:30 a. m., subject, "Consolation." English services at 7:30 p. m., subject, "The Christian Portion;" Sunday school at 2 o'clock. The mission league meets Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Thomas M. Smythe will preach tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Aloysius church on the subject: "Catholic teaching on the rights of capital and labor."

At St. Stephen's church tomorrow, morning prayer, sermon and holy communion will be observed at 10:45. The evening prayer and address at 7:30, subject of evening discourse, "Christian socialism, or the gospel of the twentieth century."

Services at the First M. E. church tomorrow will be in charge of Doctor Robbins, of Martin's Ferry.

West End chapel—Sabbath school, 3 p. m.; Endeavor, 6:30; gospel service, 7:30, address by W. H. Charles.

Second U. P. church, Reverend J. R. Green, pastor—Preaching at 11 a. m., "Man the Individual;" at 7:30 p. m., "Man a Part of Society."

Architect Fritz

To the Public.

I would call the attention of all persons contemplating building to the fact that it will be to their interest to see me, as I have cut my charges one-half; my present price being three-fourths up to one and one-half per cent. of the cost of building and in some cases a fraction more. Having many years practice in contracting, building, drawing plans and specifications, and knowing the strength of all material and work, both by theory and practice, and therefore have no need of measuring up other architect's work. I can guarantee all buildings I draw plans and specifications for, and superintend, to stand the test and the walls not crack and settle out of plumb as some specimens we have in this city have done.
